Nazi Reserves Seeking To Halt Russian Drive

German High Command Throwing In Vast Reserves On Front

FALL OF KOROSTEN APPEARS PROBABLE

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Nov. 17.—The Nazi high command today was throwing vast reserves into the Gomel-Rechitsa-Korosten-Zhitomir section of the battlefield in a frantic effort to stem the surging Soviet drive toward the Polish frontier.

The fall of Korosten, vital Nazi-held air center, appeared near and around this section alone more than 1,000 Germans were killed in Tuesday's fighting, Moscow claimed.

Six miles from Korosten Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's Ukraine army advanced to within six miles of Korosten after passing through captured Elzhich.

The Germans threw in regrouped infantry units and tank forces in an effort to restore their positions. Russian artillery opened up a heavy barrage against German fortifications on the outskirts of Gomel. In the vicinity of Pastov southeast of Zhitomir the Germans left another 500 dead as they fell back before the Russian advance, and the smoking ruins of 35 Nazi tanks remained on the battlefield.

Counter-Attacks
North of Gomel—now virtually encircled by a gradually-closing ring of Russian troops—the Nazis counter-attacked frantically but Moscow claimed each attempt was repulsed and that 1,500 Germans were slain. Fighting to expand their bridgehead on the right bank of the Sozh river, Russian troops captured a number of strongly fortified enemy points, considerably improving their position, a Moscow communication stated.

The situation of the Nazi forces holding Korosten was indeed grim as the Russians today claimed capture of Zlobich, 17 miles to the southeast, and of Obvkhod, 16 miles to the northeast, of that railway junction.

Desperate Defense

PA NEW OBSERVES

Now is the time that purchases of war bonds and stamps should not be relaxed. The war is going at greater speed now than at any time since it started and the cost is mounting steadily. Keep up your purchases of war bonds and stamps.

New Castle's park bench barometer would indicate today that wintry weather has arrived. The benches in the park, which have been well occupied many times in the past few weeks, were strangely devoid of any occupants today.

While no reports have been made to Pa. News as yet, the first ice skating of the season will probably be on the program with a few more nights like last night, when the temperature got several degrees below freezing.

Scheduling of the New Castle-Warren postponed football game for Saturday afternoon at Agassiz stadium, eliminates the forecast that this would be a season without a daylight football game for the New Castle team. All games so far this season have been played at night.

The current cold snap is hanging on much longer than is generally the case and is probably what the Indians would have referred to as "squaw winter." Last year, the first cold snap was started at the same date as this year, only lasted five days, 2 years ago yesterday, the mercury, as up in the 60's, while local residents found this morning, the coldest of the fall.

Daily Weather Report

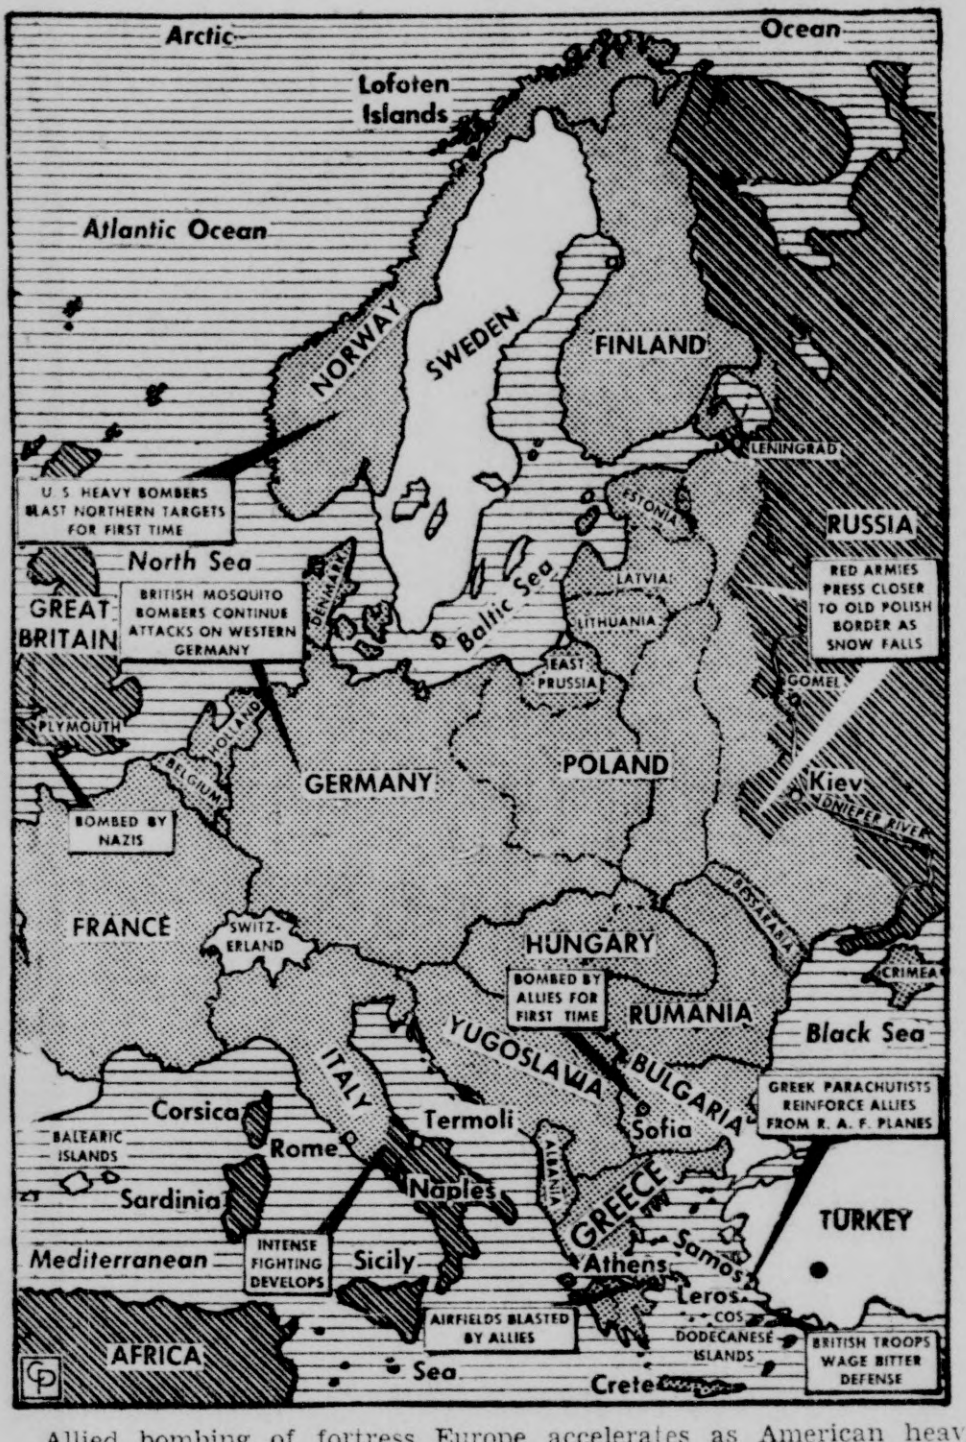

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today are as follows:

Maximum temperature, 35.
Minimum temperature, 23.
Precipitation, .04 inches, four-tenths inches snow.
River stage, 4.8 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago:

Maximum temperature, 67.
Minimum temperature, 41.
No precipitation.

ALLIED AIR ASSAULTS WIDENED

Allied bombing of fortress Europe accelerates as American heavy bombers based in the British Isles attack targets in Nazi-occupied Norway and airdromes in Greece after raiding Sofia, Bulgarian capital. Four-motored Liberators and twin-motored Mitchells blasted the Eleusis and Kalamaki airdromes in Athens in support of British and Italian troops battling the Germans in the Dodecanese islands. Reports from Turkey state that 2,000 Germans have been killed in four days of fighting with British and Italian troops on the Dodecanese island of Leros.

Widespread Raids U. S. Bombers Strike France

Many Assaults Are Made By Planes From Mediterranean Bases

By GRAHAM HOVELY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALGIERS, Nov. 17.—Two airdromes near Marseille from which the German air force has been carrying out attacks on Allied Mediterranean shipping were cratered today and their installations reduced to smoking ruins following a devastating double-barrelled assault by American Flying Fortresses and Marauders.

The raids on the airdromes in southern France were highlights in a day of heavy slugging by the Allied air forces in the Mediterranean area, which included:

- Attacks Made
1. Another damaging attack by American Mitchells on the Eleusis airdrome near Athens, where fires still were burning from the previous day's raid by Liberators;
 2. The hitting of harbor installations near Athens.

Westminster 'Grads' Gather

Alumni And Former Students Have Dinner Meeting Tuesday Night

BUTLER ATTORNEY MAKES ADDRESS

Westminster alumni and Westminster-in-laws gathered Tuesday night, November 16, in the dining room of the Epworth Methodist church for what Alumni President Russell Weller, of Cleveland, O., termed "the best alumni reunion of the year". Over 150 former students and their spouses met at dinner, and after dinner listened to a Westminster graduate, Attorney Luther Braham, of Butler, deliver an address.

Attorney Braham's address was unusual. Unusual in the fact that it was not splashed with patriotic oratory, touched not at all upon problems of economics or government but instead was an address concerning the fundamental deities, "Truth, Honor, Others and God". He pointed out the need for truth in daily life, honor in dealings, respect for others and the fact that God still reigns.

Roy M. Jamison, Toastmaster Attorney Roy M. Jamison was the toastmaster of the evening. Prior to the service of the dinner he asked Rev. W. E. Minter, of Ellwood City, to deliver the invocation. During the dinner Dudley Arnold directed the singing with Mrs. Dorothy Patch Purdie at the piano. Officers of the Lawrence county (Continued On Page Two)

Report Bulgaria Is Seeking Peace

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Unconfirmed reports reached London today that Bulgarian officials are seeking to enlist Hungary's co-operation in seeking a joint peace with the Allies.

A Zurich dispatch to Reuter's News Agency asserted that the first step in the move was taken by the Bulgarian cabinet at an urgent session yesterday, during which the possibilities of peace were discussed at length.

Following this meeting, Foreign Minister Shishmanoff left by plane for Budapest to pursue the topic further with officials of the Hungarian government, Zurich sources said.

Jap Shipping Continues To Suffer Losses

Eight Thousand Ton Merchantman Is Sunk In Rabaul Area

TWO OTHER SHIPS BADLY DAMAGED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 17.—The ceaseless campaign of Allied airmen to destroy Jap shipping in the Southwest Pacific resulted today in the sinking of an 8,000-ton merchantman, the beaching of a second and damaging of a third.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in his daily communiqué that two motorized American Mitchell bombers caught two of the Jap ships off Rabaul, bomb-battered New Britain Island enemy base toward which the vessels apparently were heading.

Two Direct Hits
Two direct hits from a high altitude bomber caused a 3,000-ton ship, a craft of 9,000 tons, in the St. George channel adjacent to the Bismarck sea. The vessel was beached on the coast of New Ireland after suffering at least one direct hit.

Night patrol bombers spotted the third enemy ship, a craft of 9,000 tons, in the St. George channel adjacent to the Bismarck sea. The vessel was beached on the coast of New Ireland after suffering at least one direct hit.

Aid Bougainville Drive
Torpedo bombers drove and strafed Jap positions near Piva to aid the ground drive on Bougainville.

Both torpedo and dive-bombers escorted by fighters, showered the Ballale airdrome in the Buin-Faisi area with 30 tons of high explosives.

Patrol Clashes Reported Along Italian Front

Extremely Bad Weather Continues To Restrict Large Military Operations

YANKS RECAPTURE SOME LOST GROUND

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALGIERS, Nov. 17.—British Eighth Army forces engaged the Germans in eastern Italy in bitter patrol clashes today and captured some Nazi prisoners.

Extremely bad weather continued to restrict military operations, especially those of the Anglo-American Fifth Army manning the western half of the transpeninsular front.

Units of the Eighth were reported to have seized further high ground on the eastern flank of the battlefront.

High winds and cold rain swept the battle area.

British units at the coastal end of the Garigliano river front shot to pieces a Nazi patrol which was ambushed on the south side of the stream.

Yanks Retake Some Ground
American units recaptured some of the ground they had lost previously in the Mount Croce ridges north of Venafro.

More than a dozen prisoners were taken south of Rignano in British Eighth Army patrol action. Another patrol clash occurred 15 miles below the Adriatic. North of Aversa the Eighth Army improved its positions.

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked German targets in the battle area and shipping off the Adriatic coast.

Amish Minister And Nephew Are Killed In Crash

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 17.—(INS)—An Amish minister and his nephew were killed and the preacher's wife was injured today when a truck, operated by a hit-and-run driver, smashed into the rear of their horse-drawn carriage.

The accident happened on the Lincoln Highway at Leaman Place 12 miles east of Lancaster.

The dead were the Rev. Christian L. Fisher, 74, and Amos S. Fisher, 48, both of Ronks. The injured was Christian M. Fisher, who escaped serious injury, and his brother Noah, who has a fractured skull.

Later police arrested Walter Stiffler of Glen Rock, York county in his truck at the Gap. Stiffler police said admitted being the hit-and-run driver.

Situation Facing Hitler Discussed By Raborg

(The strategic situation of Hitler's "Fortress Europe" is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
Written Especially for International News News
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Allied bombers have straddled Hitler's "Fortress Europe" from north to south and west to east. From Norway in the north to Athens, Greece in the south; from Western France to Sofia, Bulgaria.

Every Nazi route of transportation in Axis Europe is now subject to our all-out terrific assaults from the air. Even if all of Hitler's war production is located under ground, which it is not, his delivery of vital war necessities can be stopped.

Tremendous Allied Advantages
Even yet many people fail to grasp the tremendous advantages gained by the Allies with establishment of great bomber fields in Southern Italy, and the steadily westward advance of the Red armies together with their air armadas. There now remains not a single location in all of Axis Europe that is not within easy range of United Nations bombers.

In the far north, every Axis battleship hiding in the fjords of Norway can be searched out by Allied (Continued On Page Two)

Break-Through Possible In Solomons-Rabaul Area

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Repeated sledge-hammer blows against the Japanese in the Rabaul-Solomons area by Allied army and navy planes threatened today to precipitate a major break-through by the United Nations in the enemy's tough outer defense ring.

This growing belief was underscored in Washington by a navy spokesman who pointed out that during the past six days U. S. navy pilots alone destroyed 102 Jap planes against 15 American aircraft lost—a seven-to-one ratio. Then he added:

Rabaul May Be Abandoned
"The Japs have suffered enough damage to important fleet units to give them cause to consider seriously the abandonment of that base (Rabaul) as too hot to handle."

Secretary of the Navy Knox recently said that the developing military situation might force the Japs to evacuate their important base at Rabaul, once considered almost impregnable.

O. P. A. PRACTICES ARE CONDEMNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Sen. Ellison Smith (D., S. C.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, called today for abandonment of the OPA unless it revises its whole farm program and chases "the theorists and college professors from its desks."

Smith said he and other committee members are convinced that unless congress forces a change in OPA there is no hope of avoiding greater shortages in meat, milk and butter, and that the problem will extend to other foods and clothing.

"We have had men here before us who have spent their lives in all phases of the agriculture industry," Smith asserted. "They are unanimous to the last man in condemning OPA practices."

"They have not complained of regulation, but they do complain of the OPA type of regulation. They recognize that it does not fit in with the every day conduct of business."

New Aircraft Carrier Bataan Being Launched

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The U. S. S. Bataan, an aircraft carrier whose name commemorates the heroic struggle in the Philippines, will be commissioned at 3 p. m. today at the Philadelphia navy yard.

High officials of the Commonwealth of the Philippines, and the United States will attend the ceremony. Rear Admiral M. F. Draemel, commander of the fourth naval district, will place the Bataan in commission and Captain Valentine H. Schaeffer, USN, of Dayton, O., will assume command.

SLOT MACHINES ARE TAKEN BY RAIDERS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Two truckloads of slot machines and slot machine paraphernalia were in the hands of Allegheny County detectives today after a raid of the Coin Machine Distributing Company in Pittsburgh.

The haul of "one-armed bandits" was said to represent one of the biggest slot machine raids in years. It was reported the machines were allegedly stored for county wide distribution soon after the first of the year.

FIRE DESTROYS FOOD

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Ten thousand dollars worth of rationed foods were destroyed, it was estimated today, in a three-alarm fire at a Pittsburgh market and importing company.

Contents of the Hermes Cold Rate Markets and the Hermes Importing Company, Northside, included important olive oils and cheese, as well as cooking oils, all with point values. Damage to the three-story brick building was estimated at $5,000.

Firemen saved much of the stock by covering the threatened food with tarpaulins. About $60,000 worth of food was in the building.

Germany Moves To Halt Turkey Joining Allies

Recapture Of Island Of Leros Seen As Desperate Move To Influence Turkey

GERMAN VICTORY ONLY DIPLOMATIC

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
Nazi Germany struck a major blow today in a desperate attempt to keep Turkey out of the war on the side of the Allies by capturing the tiny island of Leros in the Dodecanese by hurling overwhelming air and amphibious forces against its British defenders.

With new Allied successes scored in Russia and Italy, and Japan hard put to maintain her hold upon Rabaul in the southwestern Pacific, the German triumph at Leros was but a small phase of the global war.

Not Yet Defeated
But if Hitler's Reich still is not defeated, and if nothing else seems destined to delay still further the full-scale Turkish participation in the war along with the United Nations that many diplomats and military men have long anticipated.

An official communiqué from the headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland-Wilson, British commander-in-chief in the Middle East, announced that Leros had fallen to the Germans "after very severe fighting, and in spite of the most determined resistance."

Three thousand British and 5,000 Italian troops were taken prisoner according to the Nazi version of the battle. But even if this is true, the victory is more of a diplomatic than a military one.

The Germans have been trying for months to enhance their prestige in Turkey. Allies of the Turks in the last war, the Germans knew better than anyone else that military prowess is much admired by them, and it was the unbroken string of Allied victories since El

Roll another log on the fire, or maybe you use gas or oil or coal, well anyway stoke up the dying embers, for neighbor days are getting mighty cold. The rocking chair and sofa have attractions, the nights are chilly and days are nippy quite, which proves why folks are doing much more reading and sitting round the fireplace at night. So roll another log on the fire, or shovel in some coal and then some more, the balmy days are over, gentle reader, today is proof it's down to thirty-four.

GOLDEN WEDDING AT W. J. McALLISTER HOME

Golden wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McAllister was appropriately celebrated at their home in Pulaski on Monday, November 15, when friends, neighbors and relatives gathered to share in the informal "open house" reception planned during the afternoon.

Fifty years ago, Mr. McAllister took for his bride, Minnie M. Crawford, the ceremony taking place in the bride's home. Rev. C. J. Chapman then pastor of the Christian church in Pulaski, officiated.

Further commemorating the occasion, additional guests called during the evening hours. Buffet refreshments were served by the ladies in charge, and the rooms throughout were beautifully decorated with floral bouquets, gifts to the honored couple. They received a purse of money from the immediate community, and other appropriate remembrances.

A special guest was Second Lieut. Joe E. Wallace, nephew of the McAllisters home on furlough from Port Monmouth, New Jersey.

A highlight was the repeating of a poem "Sail On, Oh Ship Of Stars" by Longfellow and the singing of a hymn, "If You Knew My Jesus", contributed by Mr. McAllister.

"Sulfa, Please!"

A WOUNDED AMERICAN BOY lies on a jungle trail in New Guinea. A companion stoops over him. "What can I do, fella?" "Sulfa, please. They got me pretty bad." And into the stricken man's wound goes the wonder drug that will fight off infection.

Few American women know that the same used cooking fats they save in their kitchens to provide this boy with shells and bullets also help to make sulfa drugs, vaccines and scores of other battle-field essentials. No material of war that you can help provide means more in terms of his life or death. Are you saving your used cooking fats? Even the blackest fat yields crystal-clear glycerine. America desperately needs them. Save them in any kind of a tin can, not in glass. Rush them to your meat dealer. Start doing it today!

JAPS STILL "SINK" SHIPS BY RADIO

FANTASTIC Japanese claims of great Japanese naval victories in the Southwest Pacific have been adequately dismissed by General MacArthur and Admiral Halsey. Further claims are made from Tokyo, but with the significant addition that we have such great reserves we replace these mythical losses instantly.

How long the Tokio broadcasters can fool even the slavish Japanese people and the puppet regimes in conquered territory by these pipe-dreams is their concern. The various claims emanating from Japan, added up over a year or so, would represent destruction of our present huge fleet twice over.

The device of announcing a great naval victory over us was used when Guadalcanal had to be given up. Now the Japs face early loss of Bougainville, and the fall of Rabaul could not be long averted after that.

The facts are that with minor exceptions no Japanese effort to reinforce Bougainville has succeeded. It is also noteworthy that Tokio makes no attempt to assert that sizable Jap naval forces have scored these alleged victories.

The main Japanese fleet is in hiding; has been for virtually a year, and it stays there in spite of the joint challenge of General MacArthur and Admiral Halsey for it to come out and fight.

If it does the resultant battle will be no child's play. But we shan't have to employ the arts of fiction to announce to the people of Japan afterward that their fleet can't hide any more.

POPULATION SHIFTS

A net decrease of 3,000,000 in the civilian population of the United States is reported by the Census Bureau. This is based on registrations for Ration Book No. 2, after some adjustments, such as for births. Measured against the draft the decrease is less than might have been expected. The interesting feature is the extent of the migration to metropolitan areas, set in motion by the high wages paid by industry.

Of the effect of this migration on sparsely settled areas with little, if any, manufacture, an outstanding example is Hamilton County, New York. It is the Empire State's largest subdivision in square miles. It is also the smallest in population. It is a domain of public and private reservations, with the inhabitants mostly dependent for their livelihood on what they can earn in the summer time. Just beyond its boundaries are large war-production centers.

The result is that Hamilton has lost 30 per cent of its population. Part of the loss will be permanent. North Dakota, it is estimated, has lost 100,000 in population, and Montana 79,000.

RETURN OF THE HERO

All kinds of men make good airmen. Pilots, bombardiers and other highly trained technicians who man American fighting planes may come from any walk of civilian life.

D. H. Fulton, manager of Eastman Kodak Company, asks what kind of employment they are to come back to when the war is won. In his address to a meeting in New York he spoke particularly of the young white-collar worker who now wears a uniform and perhaps the insignia of an officer.

From office boy to officer is a long jump, but many have made it. And the soldier, sailor or airman, trained in a hard school and toughened by experience, will not be the stuff of which office boys are made when the war ends.

It was a comforting promise to many men when they went away to war that their old jobs would be open to them when they returned. But many of them will not want their old jobs. They will be too big for their old jobs. They will have learned new skills and discovered new abilities. Many will have learned how to command and organize other men.

Business and industry with an eye to the future will make plans for using these men according to their capacities.

MUST SHOP EARLIER THIS YEAR

The happy season of Christmas, which is just over the horizon, is bringing more than the normal complications this year. Life itself, of course, is far from being a simple business in these days of war, when the established order is seriously disturbed by the impact of conflict.

But Christmas must be observed appropriately, come storm or sleet, monsoon or mistral, war or catastrophe in various forms. The day transcends disasters and misfortunes.

If this purpose is to be accomplished satisfactorily, the various problems which will face the public must be given consideration without delay. Two warnings are uttered by those familiar with the difficulties that must be overcome in preparation for the holiday. One is to shop earlier and the other is to send early.

Shoppers will find this year that it will be necessary to make many concessions and adjustments to the times. Numerous articles popular in the past as Christmas gifts are not available. Trees and other decorations will not be easy to obtain. Emphasis will be on practical gifts.

Factors in the advancement of the Christmas shopping season include the early mailing deadlines for service men's gifts, also the fear that there will be a recurrence of last year's experience, when late arrivals at the stores found the shelves and the counters bare or the supplies limited. The shortage of workers, acute at present, will be even more so later and last-minute shoppers will find themselves in line waiting impatiently for a little attention from an overworked and exhausted salesman or saleswoman.

All of which emphasizes that the time to shop is now, not in December. And gifts for mailing or delivery by rail should be shipped by the latter part of this month or early in December at the latest. Conditions as they are at present hold the danger of disappointments, and disappointments at Christmas time are to be avoided at all costs.

We have of late come of the opinion that Adolf Hitler is now learning some of the facts of life.

One of our neighbors says that despite the scarcity of red points her husband starts beefing every time he comes home and finds dinner isn't ready.

One of our friends says that what he hopes for on Christmas is not Santa Claus with a pack on his back but the laundryman with a bundle under his arm.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING WISE SPENDING

Most of us parents in normal times give our children too much in terms of material things. We lavish too much money on them in infancy and prepare them to make demands for more and more as they grow older. Few children in the United States are denied enough of what they do not need for their physical and moral welfare. As soon as they are old enough to spend money, most are given far too much of it to spend, more or less regardless of the parents' income.

Now when the child of five or fifteen is given what he does not need for his best health, education and moral welfare at a sacrifice to his parents this child is definitely harmed in character. Even when luxuries for him mean no sacrifice to his parents, these luxuries harm him by hindering him from gaining proper values and acquiring responsibility and an urge to strive and discipline himself. No child (no person, indeed) can acquire good traits of character whose every wish is gratified.

In wartime, these principles are more important since growing self-gratification is contrary to the need of our nation and is hampering to the cause of victory and reconstruction after the war.

Budgeting Money

It is hard for parents to deny their child as they should and harder, as a rule, for parents of high income than parents of low income. At all economic levels, the money spent on a child for his whims or mere pleasure, or spent by him for such should be strictly budgeted. For most children this will mean a definite allowance scheme. (My bulletin on "Allowances" may be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.)

Many children, notably of high school age, have part-time jobs now. Some indeed are earning fabulous wages, even more than their teachers do, or their parents used to earn. Most of these young earners are spending nearly all they earn, for passing pleasures, good times and luxurious clothes. Many earning youths are not even contributing to their clothes and food and support of their family. Not a few of these youths are drifting into juvenile delinquency because of the large amount of money they are spending on "riotous living."

Don't Blame Youngsters

We parents can hardly blame the youngsters. We are responsible. They lack experience, vision and sense of values. They need guidance and reasonable restraint. If we fail to persuade the teen-age youth to spend his money wisely, we should require that he do. We should direct his employer to send us this youth's pay-check and assign to him from it a wise, reasonable budget allowance, certainly not until the time when he proves able to exercise thrift. Just to catch a youngster earns is no reason why he should have more money to spend than is good for him.

We used to suppose there is a great character gain to a youth from earning his own spending money. There still is when he earns it wisely. But when he spends it as does the average earning youth today it is not only destructive to his character and citizenship but also to his community and country. When will parents wake up to their responsibility?

Wartime Health Message

Protect your home from tuberculosis is a slogan which has unusual significance today when every man, woman and child has a greater obligation to home, community and nation.

Tuberculosis has increased somewhat in Pennsylvania since the beginning of 1943. Thirty-seven years ago began a new type of war—one in which human suffering has been prevented, not caused; in which homes have been kept intact, not bombed; in which families have been kept together, not scattered and sent straggling down the road of refugees; in which lives—hundreds of thousands in Pennsylvania—have been saved, not lost.

In order to meet the rising war tide of tuberculosis caused by wartime conditions we must all close ranks on the home front under the emblem of the double barred cross. A practical means of accomplishing this is through buying Christmas Seals and health bonds. They work through the year to strengthen the home front which is so necessary in support of our boys on world battle fronts.

Volunteers have been busy for the past three weeks at the office of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society getting the seals ready for the mail.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are talking to two people, one of whom you wish to invite to dinner or a party, don't do it in the presence of the other party. This is needless discourtesy. Wait to phone or write the one you wish for a guest, or to invite him or her when no one else is present.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight, 5:43; sun rises tomorrow, 7:47.

Beauty is not always even skin deep. It may be only as thick as the powder and paint.

It takes a scarcity of liquor to sober some birds up.

It's a wise man who can tell much about what will happen after the war is over. Many are trying to tell us.

The people most easily shocked by juvenile delinquency get the most kick out of talking about it.

"I've been on this road ten years," said the conductor on a southern railroad to a passenger who complained of the slow time, "and I know what I'm talking about." "Ten years, eh?" said the passenger. "What station did you get on at?"

The women of this country have shown that they can do about everything they are called upon to do—and do it well.

A female writer says when people are drunk they say what they really think. Wow!

Optimist—Anyone who realizes it is just as easy to shovel snow as it is to push a lawnmower.

HAVE YOU HEARD THESE?

Paul—Give me a kiss or I'll sock you over the head and take one anyway.

Pauline—Oh, I'll not give you a kiss, and don't you dare hit me too hard!

More money is coming into circulation all the time. If you did not have $2.79 in October you did not have your per capita.

A typical American is a person who would abide by the golden rule if his next door neighbors would.

Midnight is called the witching time of night, because at that hour it is sometimes difficult to determine which to do, go home or whoop it up larger.

Three old prospectors were snow-bound for the winter in Alaska, and agreed that they would alternate weeks in doing the cabin chores.

It was further agreed, so as to keep things more peaceful, that whenever anyone complained, he had to assume the balance of the week's work, in addition to his regular turn.

One cold morning old Rattlesnake Pete got tired of his housework and decided a generous portion of kerosene in the oatmeal might bring out a complaint and excuse him from further duty that week.

The first of his unsuspecting friends who tasted the oatmeal spread his first mouthful across the cabin and roared: "Some one's spatting galoot has put coaloil in my oatmeal!" and then remembering the fate of one who criticized, he quickly and even louder exclaimed: "But I like it that way!"

To be truly popular, develop the knack of making one fellow think he is as popular as you.

Many people are buying war bonds for Christmas gifts this year. Nothing better.

There are always people raring to go some place—any place and fast.

Of course, anything is possible, but it might be something we don't like.

Ordinarily, a hostess specifies a certain time for a guest's visit. In her invitation, she usually says "come from Saturday noon until Sunday evening," or whatever she wishes you to leave and you should go home at the suggested time, unless you are urged to remain longer.

The situation today is especially serious what with food rationing, fuel rationing, laundry problems etc. And by the way, never go visiting for an overnight stay without your ration book. It's almost as essential as your toothbrush.

Question: Is it permissible to announce an engagement when the wedding will not take place for a year or more?—Vera.

Answer: It is far better to announce an engagement, even one of long duration, than it is to let matters drift. Your friends will know "where you stand." Especially today there are many "duration" engagements. So yours won't seem odd.

Tomorrow—More About Engagements.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Have you ever got sick and tired of it all? Same old routine every day, same old gaud in the office, same old nine to five, same old treadmill day after day.

What a glorious thing it would be to say in bed until 10 in the morning, loaf around, take it easy just to be a gentleman of leisure.

No boss to cater to, no office politics, no thrills to punch—a retired capitalist.

You have enough money—what would it cost to live in the country and do nothing—so you are thinking about it very seriously.

I did over the week-end.

I was fed up to my nose with the office. Several things had gone wrong. The pace had been nerve-racking. The boss had been cranky and I had a couple of tiffs.

So I went into my den and did some late thinking.

For years I had led an active life met thousands of people, made hundreds of friends, felt the pulse of the world.

Sure, it had been hectic, sometimes I came home so tired I didn't feel like eating. Just sleep—that's all I wanted.

So I would give it all up—for what?

Get up in the morning, nothing to do but my breakfast, talk to the wife for a while, read my paper, take a little walk with the dog.

By that time it would be 11:30. Say, 11 o'clock, not hungry yet, no lunch, don't feel like reading any books or magazines. Too early for that.

I turn on the radio. Soap op. A New station lady tells me how to make delicious biscuits without butter. Off goes the radio.

Now what? I go into the living room. The vacuum cleaner's on the chairs are upset. The rug's up. No place for a retired capitalist.

I yawn. Another yawn. It's raining. No upstairs. The beds aren't made up yet, so I can't lie down.

Lunchtime—ready—a plate of soup, a left-over piece of meat, a glass of milk. The wife's busy with her chores. Nobody to talk to, none of my old gang.

The afternoon is worse. I read a while, I sleep a while, I go down for the evening papers. I read.

No telephone calls, no papers to sign, no excitement. Where's life? Where is the world? Where do I fit in? What use am I?

And this is just the first day. But by God, there wouldn't be a second one!

Fortunately I haven't quit my job as yet. I go to bed—I can hardly wait for my train to get me down to the office.

When I get there my secretary says: "The boss wants to see you. He's mad as hell."

Hurrah!

Two Stories Told About Churchill

Prime Minister Has Sense Of Humor
Sergeant Reveals How Soldier Feels

By HELEN ESSARY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—"War," a United States general says, "is made up of long periods of boredom and snatches of intense fear."

As an antidote to this quotation I present—two gay and hilarious stories about Winston Churchill—two blunt letters and two answers.

For the first story the scene is laid in Cairo during one of the recent visits of the British prime minister. An Egyptian personage was making a speech at a public dinner in Churchill's honor. It was a noble speech, done with the glowing phrases you have to use during a war if you want to keep yourself and other people thinking there is any virtue in this fighting and killing.

"I am never troubled about the decisions I must daily make," said the personage in French. "I never look back and wish I had done otherwise. I look ahead with calm satisfaction for always in whatever I do or say, I let my conscience be my guide."

Churchill, who sat on the personage's right, listened politely and chewed a cigar. Then he arose, grinned a little and said in his kind of French (very bad indeed it is, so I understand): "How fortunate you are to have the sort of conscience that is comfortable to have a guide. As for me, I think it wise to ask only that my conscience be a good companion."

The second Churchill story has its setting in the British embassy in Washington. The occasion was also a speechmaking dinner in Churchill's honor. Toasts had been drunk "To the King!" and since this embassy is located in the United States "To the President of the United States!" When it was the prime minister's turn to be honored the toastmaster said: "To Winston Churchill who is forever true to his principles!"

A heavy silence fell upon the guests. Everyone present suddenly remembered that Churchill had switched political parties three times. Churchill, realizing his own adaptability, said with a sudden loud chuckle, "Right! True to his principles—as long as he has them!"

THE LETTERS—

"Dear Helen Essary: It seems to me you're getting very pro-British. Why have you switched. You used to be anti—L. S."

Sorry to disagree, L. S. I never was either "pro" or "anti" British. I just don't want to be too dewy-eyed about our English relatives. They themselves have never been dewy-eyed about anybody. This is why they have been a great nation for centuries.

They have ever been a practical people whose hard common sense I think we may well copy in our dealings with other peoples.

However, I do think it childish to be either hurt or surprised if and when they are outsmarting us. Have they always not outsmarted all nations, big or little, if they could? Or was one-fifth of the liveable area of the globe acquired as their empire by a policy of sweetness and light?

I am indeed not "anti-British." I merely wonder from time to time if the United States is sufficiently aware of British genius. Is this being pro-British?

Concerning an article I wrote criticizing the showmanship that publicly treated wounded soldiers from Walter Reed hospital at the recent Back-the-Attack War Bond show in Washington, I received last week (Continued On Page Five)

A CHINESE TALE

I tell the tale as it came to me. Of the Chinese I know little. Which holds that the blame must the parents be. For what children do.

Sent home from school for some mischief done. As a youngster plays. The teacher wrote: "You must punish your son. For his wilful ways."

All the morning long of a bitter day. Through the window pane. Uncovered, they noticed a grown man stay. In the driving rain.

Said he, when asked why he stood so long. By the storm assailed. "The parent has erred when a child does wrong."

And I have failed! They have written: my son is a wilful lad. And mine is the shame. By me must the punishment now be had. For mine is the blame."

Postal Revenue At New Record

For the first time, postal revenues in this country have passed the billion dollar mark for a single twelve-month period, that period ending September 30, saw one of the few surpluses in postal history.

Excess of receipts over expenditures was not great—$12,000,000—and the period covered was not a fiscal year, so that when the final reports are issued the balance may have shifted.

In the past year, however, revenues have gone up 15 per cent, and operating expenses have mounted at an even more rapid rate. The volume of business is unprecedented, and some idea of the task confronting postal employees may be obtained if those who like to toss about astronomical figures want to determine how many two and three-cent letters it takes to make up the first class mail's proportion of a billion dollars. Besides all that, millions of postage-free letters were handled from men in the service.

The real measure of postal service is not revenue, through Congressional indications are that more thought is being given to making that important arm of the Government self-supporting. "Service" is the word which judgment is made and under all the trying conditions of war it hasn't yet broken down.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Believes Oakes

Mystery Will Be Solved Some Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Raymond C. Schindler, the private detective retained by Nancy De Marigny to fight the murder accusation against her husband, revealed today that his investigation of the slaying of Sir Harry Oakes still is continuing, and predicted that one day the mystery would be solved.

In an exclusive interview with the New York Journal-American, Schindler announced:

"I have every reason to believe that the Oakes mystery will be solved. I don't think I am too premature when I say that we are pretty sure of the man who killed Sir Harry."

The private detective revealed a startling fact which did not come out at the trial.

"Sir Harry's eyeballs were deliberately burned," he said. "Don't make the same mistake the police investigators made. The burned eyeballs were not incidental to the fire which was set to the bed."

"My investigation shows that such would have been impossible and entirely inconsistent with the physical evidence we developed at the scene of the crime. The flame—or intense heat—was applied directly to the eyeballs. This was done after death."

"The murder was one of the most sadistic I have ever come across," Schindler's investigation convinced him that the murdered of Sir Harry Oakes was motivated by more than personal gain.

Montreal Has

Murder Mystery

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 17.—(INS)—The battered body of Mrs. Andrew R. Webster, wife of a wealthy building supply executive, was found early this morning in the bedroom of her home in the exclusive suburb of West Mount, her head bludgeoned by a baseball bat.

Three of the slain woman's children were reported to have been attacked in the same manner, and have been taken to a hospital. One is said to be in a serious condition.

Mrs. Webster's body, clothed in a nightgown, was found in her bedroom. The room showed evidences of a struggle, but no evidence of robbery was discovered.

Mrs. Webster's husband and her brother-in-law, Arthur, have been notified, and are on their way to Montreal from Toronto, relatives said.

Ladies of the Wolves club were entertained Tuesday evening at the regular dinner-meeting of the Wolves club held at the Sylvan Heights country club.

Following the 6:30 o'clock dinner, vice-president Paul Phillips was in charge. Frank Summers later presented an entertaining program enjoyed by all. Dancing was a late feature of the evening.

Special guests present included: Mrs. Louise Conti and Margaret Bordonaro. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Aicher of Butler, Pa.

On December 3, the next meeting will include election of officers.

TWO ARE KILLED

IN AUTO CRASH

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Mrs. Helen Grutski, 27, of Shenandoah, was in critical condition today from injuries received in an automobile accident in which her two companions, one of them a Catholic priest, were killed.

The dead were the Rev. Boleslaus J. Zwicki, 45, chaplain of St. Francis country house, a home for convalescents in Darby, and Mrs. Grutski's sister, Mrs. Rose Shalek, 46, of Shenandoah.

Father Zwicki was driving the women to Pottstown to visit their brother, the Rev. John Naja, pastor of St. Peter's Polish Catholic church in Pottstown. The accident occurred last night when the car crashed into a parked coal truck. Edward Pascavage of Schuylkill Haven, was held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Air Raid Alert

During Morning

Lawrence county underwent the shortest air raid alert of the war this morning when one blue alert was blown, no red and no second blue. At 10:26 the yellow or cautionary signal came in to the control center. At 10:46 the first blue alert sounded which was to put the citizenry on guard. No red alert was sounded, which would have stopped traffic on the streets and no second blue was sounded. The alert clear was received at 11:04.

According to Numa F. Vidal, the control officer for the Lawrence county Office of Civilian Defense, some slight confusion was seen in the blue alert. Some whistles sounded a red alert but soon changed. On the whole the air raid alert was satisfactory and similar reports were received from Ellwood City, Wampum and the rural districts.

Sometime later in the month a blackout practice will be held. The date of course is being held secret.

Criticism Over

Furlough Given

Master Of Dog

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Pvt. Franklin E. Higgins was on his way back to camp Crowder, Mo., today while a storm of criticism raged over the special furlough which permitted him to visit his dying 17-year-old dog, Pal, at home.

Parents of other service men who had been denied leave even in cases of births or deaths made strong objections to the Red Cross which handled Higgins' trip.

Mrs. Marie Sloan of the Rensselaer County Red Cross asserted that her chapter "did not arrange for Higgins' furlough or even ask for it." She said the chapter merely investigated and reported the facts to army authorities, and that it is not within the province of the Red Cross to say whether or not a furlough is deserved.

Much Damage In

Raid On Hong Kong

CHUNGKING, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Liberator bombers scored many hits on shipping and the Kowloon dock area in a raid on Hong Kong the night of Nov. 15, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced today.

During the same day, Mitchell bombers attacked shipping, the docks and Fort Bayard on the Kwangchow peninsula.

YOUNG PROGRESSIVES

TO HONOR SOLDIERS

This evening at 8 o'clock, President Joe Cozza of the Young Progressives club, will conduct a meeting in the club rooms, South Mill street, to discuss important plans for a party and dance for the soldiers of Camp Reynolds.

This event is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, December 4.

PENICILLIN AIDS

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Fifteen-year-old Helen E. Kostick of nearby Middletown, was regaining her health today—thanks to Penicillin.

Stricken with a bloodstream infection, she was discharged from the Harrisburg hospital yesterday after 38 days during which doctors treated her with the so-called miracle drug. The Penicillin was conveyed to Harrisburg by state police from military stores.

CLUB BIDS FAREWELL

TO MEMBERS LEAVING

Members of the Mahoning Garden club were entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. E. C. Hulbert, of 502 West Chery street.

At the business session Mrs. A. M. Brown presided, when Mrs. R. M. Scowden read the rules of the farm products show here this week.

Mrs. W. C. Leicht was in charge of the program.

The roll call was answered by naming a garden magazine.

Mrs. Brown gave the lesson on "Horticulture," which was well received.

Technicolor pictures were shown by Mrs. Kenneth Walter. These pictures were taken this summer of the various flowers gardens of club members.

Mrs. George H. Cook and Mrs. A. M. Brown were presented with lovely gifts on behalf of the club to which they responded thanking the members for their kindness.

Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Brown will soon leave for Arizona to join Mr. Brown who is located there.

A splendid lunch was served by Mrs. W. C. Patterson and Mrs. G. E. Shaffer.

The next meeting will be entertained at the home of Mrs. W. H. Leicht, of 107 East Clayton street, which will take the form of a Christmas party.

S. C. W.'S PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mrs. John Drapp's unit of the Mahoning Methodist church were in charge of the Signal Lights Bible class meeting in the church parlors, on Tuesday evening. There were 20 members present, and two guests.

The devotional period was led by Mrs. Charles W. Thompson.

Plans were made for a Christmas party at the next meeting on December 21.

The evening Bible study was conducted by Mrs. Thompson.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Drapp's unit.

STONE-WORK DELAYED

Paul D. Weller, of the Seventh Ward Civic club, who is in charge of placing the Honor Roll Cabinet for the ward, states that the delay is on account of waiting on the contractor furnishing workmen to erect the necessary stone-work to support the cabinet.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

This evening the Christopher Columbus Society Auxiliary will meet at 7:30 in Christopher Columbus hall, South Liberty street, when plans will be completed for the pot luck supper on Thanksgiving evening.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors will be entertained on Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Harry Rankin, of Wallace avenue. There will be an election of officers.

TO MEET FRIDAY

On Friday evening, Mahoningtown Boy Scouts Troop V-4 will meet at 6:30, in Mahoning school.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Private M. C. Hall, Jr., stationed at Feltz Field, Spokane, Washington, is spending a few days furlough visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hall, Sr., and family, of 24 North Cedar street.

Mrs. Lydia Cain, of 926½ North Cedar street, has been admitted to the New Castle hospital for treatment.

Miss Janet English, of Washington, D. C., is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hall, Sr., of 24 North Cedar street.

Mrs. Angeline Izzo and infant son, of 219 South Ashland avenue, have returned to their home from the New Castle hospital.

Dorothy Galanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Galanski, of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, is getting along as well as can be expected following an appendicitis operation in Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Georgia Newton, of West Seventh street, has returned home from the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she has been undergoing treatment.

DEFENSE COUNCIL ORDER

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The state defense council informed county and local units today that residents should not be prosecuted for remaining outdoors on their own premises during an actual or practice air raid, but they should be advised to take cover for their own safety.

The order was in line with the eastern defense command's policy which advised against prosecutions but called attention to British experience which proved persons are twice safer in their homes during a raid than when standing outside.

The average size of Missouri farms is 135.6 acres.

MORE PRODUCTS FOR CIVILIANS PLANNED

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The nation may expect an increasing number of products for all essential civilian needs from now on, Arthur D. Whiteside, vice chairman for civilian requirements of the War Production Board, said today.

He told members of the Commerce and Industry Association of New York in a roundtable discussion that the army and navy have relaxed their attitude with the result that materials and manufacturing facilities will become increasingly available for production for civilian use.

He said electric irons, infants' knit underwear, children's clothing, copper strands for electric wiring and aluminum kitchen ware were items that will be produced in greater numbers. A program now is being worked out, he added, to make 2,000,000 electric irons available for civilian use in about six months.

Says Eire Has No Intention Of Entering War

DUBLIN, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Eire today has no intention of entering the war nor does the government of Southern Ireland feel it should enter the conflict to repay past American generosity and help.

This was the statement of Premier Eamon DeValera who, speaking before the Dail, declared:

"Neutrality is not a cowardly policy. If, in the postwar period, any of the belligerent states try to vent their anger upon us, we have had to face that just as we have had to face the possibility of attack."

DeValera vigorously denied that Eire has forgotten the debt owed to the United States for past assistance.

"It was never suggested, it was never expected, by the people of the United States that America is entitled to be repaid in the blood of our people."

WHEELER OPPOSES NEW DRAFT BILL

Says It Will Do Little To Halt Draft Of Pre-Pearl Harbor Fathers

By WILLIAM S. NEAL (U.S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont.) who launched a fight in September to prevent drafting of fathers, declared today that the senate-house conference compromise draft bill will do little to halt their induction.

While sponsors of the compromise said that draft of fathers will be delayed, Wheeler declared the agreement means final defeat of the program he initiated.

The bill, which is expected to be sent to the president this week directs pooling of married non-fathers and single men on a nationwide and state-wide basis with the object of slowing up draft of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

"The bill won't cure the hoarding of labor in war industries nor does it prevent drafting of fathers," said Wheeler. "I understand that the proof of a man's indispensability in order to be deferred industrially has been stricken out."

No Postal Zones Established Here

Zoning System Only Applies To Larger Cities, Postmaster Hanna States

Postal zoning is not in effect here as far as the public is concerned. Postmaster William E. Hanna stated today. Zoning is only used in the larger cities, and was put in effect principally to aid inexperienced clerks and carriers who have been taken on during the war emergency, so that deliveries of mail could be expedited.

Postmaster Hanna has devised his own zoning system which is used in the office here, whereby mail going to the rural areas and those to streets starting with certain letters of the alphabet are segregated, as the work of sorting the mail for distribution here is started.

In the larger cities zoning is necessary because of the number of new men who are now working in the postal service, taking the place of those in the armed forces. This throws all mail into certain zones, and the carriers and clerks know the exact district to which it belongs. There may be a half dozen carriers covering these zones.

"WHISKEY LINES" IN PITTSBURGH DWINDLE

International News Service—PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—"Whiskey lines" dwindled and almost disappeared in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county today and the new rationing plan of the Pennsylvania State Liquor Control Board eased off to a routine procedure.

Stocks of some brands had already disappeared from the shelves under the pressure of buyers but most of these brands will be replenished by later shipments this week since the rationing plan provides for feeding in most brands to all stores until the end of the first rationing period Dec. 31.

EDINBURGH — (INS) — Probably none of us has ever had the experience of meeting himself face to face while strolling through a strange city. Major Granville Carrel of the U. S. Army Air Corps had just that experience when walking down an Edinburgh street he suddenly came upon a piece of sculpture that he recognized as himself.

The statue represented a young Scottish soldier, in kilts and bronze and formed the center of a Scottish-American war Memorial. Major Carrel posed for it while a student at the University of Pennsylvania.

SIXTEEN FLYERS LOST IN CRASHES

Two Separate Bomber Crashes
In Florida Being Investigated

BUCKINGHAM ARMY AIR FIELD, FORT MYERS, Fla., Nov. 17.—(INS)—The deaths of 16 flyers in separate crashes of two Medium army bombers at Buckingham Field near Fort Myers were investigated today by army authorities. Eight flyers were killed in the first crash which occurred yesterday less than a mile west of the field when the plane, flying on a routine mission, appeared to get out of control and spun in from an altitude of approximately 1,000 feet. An hour later a second Medium bomber crashed just off the ramp near the engineering building and burst into flames, killing all eight occupants. The flyers were believed to have been killed by the impact as the plane crashed while coming in for a landing. No members of the ground crew were injured. In a preliminary report investigating officers discounted the possibility of sabotage and declared the accidents were in no way connected. Although the skies were overcast, visibility was satisfactory for flying, army authorities declared. The dead in the first crash included: Pfc. Luth. M. Jentes, 20, student gunner, Wooster, O. Victims of the second crash, included: Pfc. Joseph S. Stepek, 20, student gunner, New Kensington, Pa.

Women Voters Set Next Meeting Date

Next meeting of the League of Women Voters will take place on Wednesday, November 24 at 2 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A., according to announcement made following a meeting of the executive board of the league at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Beck, president of the league. At what will be the first meeting of the league since its organization meeting, Jack M. Dunlap, county probation officer, will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency." Membership of the league will be asked to voice its opinion on the subject, "Our Government As It Affects the Citizen Under 21" as one for the year.

Boundary Line Fixing Precedes Government Basis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of State Hull indicated Tuesday that Poland and the Baltic states will not have the opportunity to choose their own form of true government until boundary lines of those nations are permanently determined. He said there could be no permanent liberated territories until territorial settlements involved in certain areas have been permanently disposed of. He added that the Italian formula, which was agreed upon at the Moscow conference, could not apply to boundary disputes, as the latter have a definite permanent bearing on the question of what constitutes liberated territory. Hull further pointed out that the United States and Great Britain had decided not to seek any permanent settlement of European boundary disputes until the end of the war. He emphasized that to do so now would mean stopping the war while the Allied powers argued as to what should constitute the various boundary lines of Europe.

RUSSIAN GROUP DUE AT PARLEY

Will Complete Working Organization Of Relief And Rehabilitation Council

By PHILIP G. REED
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Expected arrival of the Russian contingent today was due to complete the working organization of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation council as it swung into its second week of sessions. Russia has been formally represented at the conference by Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, pending the coming of the real Soviet delegation from Moscow. The twelve diplomats and technical experts, presumably bearing detailed information on Russia's war relief needs and plans to join in the UNRRA program have been delayed for more than ten days by bad weather. They were flying the Siberian-Alaskan route from Russia's capital and were grounded for days in Siberia by winter storms. Word reached Atlantic City late yesterday that the group had arrived at Great Falls, Mont., and there changed planes to an American air transport that will bring them to the UNRRA conference.

Attacks Idea Of Easy Manufacture Of 'Wonder Drug'

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 17.—(INS)—The recent statement of Dr. Julius A. Vogel of Pittsburgh that the wonder-drug penicillin could be made by the average doctor in his home at little cost was under attack today by Prof. Albert P. Sy of the University of Buffalo. "If I thought my physician had made his own penicillin I would report him to the police and state and county medical societies," Prof. Sy said. Commenting on Dr. Vogel's statement that any physician could produce his own penicillin at a production cost of "five cents a dish-ful," Prof. Sy said: "The time certainly will never come when any Tom, Dick or Harry can make his own penicillin. Its production necessarily would require the services of an experienced bacteriologist. The average physician could not more make penicillin than he could make vaccines. Penicillin is manufactured under the strictest scientific observation—and even then accidents have happened."

DRAFT CALL CHARGE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Magician Peter Wilkie, 31, can produce rabbits out of a hat and change the spots on dice. But all his necromancy went for naught today and he was under $2,500 bail, awaiting trial on a charge of failing to answer a draft call in Rockford, Ill. Wilkie, who entertained FBI agents while awaiting arraignment, told them he learned the magic art while serving a burglary term in the Illinois State Penitentiary. He was one of 68 picked up last week as draft delinquents. A total of 20 million deadweight tons of shipping is scheduled for production in American shipyards in 1943.

ALL STATES WILL HAVE SOME '44 AUTO LICENSE

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—All the states will have automobile license whatnots in 1944—but it's taking a lot of imagination, ingenuity and improvisation to do it. South Carolina, for instance, will use a strip of metal 1 5/8 by 11 inches, to be attached to the old plate. Indiana will issue only one plate and that will measure 3 1/2 by 10 inches—about half the normal size. Illinois, Louisiana, Montana and Virginia will put out two new fiber board plates for each car. Seven states, reduced to frugality by the shortage of metal, will rely on small tabs to be attached to the old licenses. Eleven other states will furnish drivers with stickers, although car owners and law enforcement officials have little liking for them. Twenty-four states will provide steel licenses for 1944, but only one to a motor car. These changes wrought by the war were brought out today in a survey conducted by the Federation of Tax Administrators.

BOYS ARE ACCUSED

SHARON, Pa., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Two 15-year-old Farrell youths today admitted to police stealing six automobiles and burglarizing four service stations in Sharon and Farrell. The youths, Charles Ervin and Rudolph Hamon, have been held for the Mercer county juvenile court.

Funeral Procession—with 130,000,000 mourners

Just a passenger car that's all washed up? No... a part of the national defense out of action—a loss affecting 130,000,000 Americans.

You who own a car are entrusted with a part of a national asset—the mileage still left to America. It must be guarded as vigilantly as we guard our freedom.

Will you take the steps to prevent another little defeat in America's battle for existence? Then drive your car to a service station... any service station.

Have the service man check it—for brakes, for the need of chassis lubrication or fresh oil—even for the need of water in your battery. Let him see that old, burned-out spark plugs are not wasting precious gasoline, that your automatic choke is working properly. Have him prepare your car for winter with the proper lubricants. Let him provide the anti-freeze that guards against a cracked cylinder head or engine block from sudden bitter weather.

The owner lost, and every single American lost with him. And we just can't afford losses like that. For a car that's worn out is no longer replaceable from the production line. In fact, of all the country's rapidly-aging cars, not a single one can be spared, for each loss adds to the burdens of already overtaxed transportation lines.

The mileage left in our cars, our trucks, and our buses is vital. It has GOT to see us through—or else.

G. O. P. WOMEN IN STATE SESSION

Thousand Delegates Attending Annual State Convention At Harrisburg

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—One thousand delegates to the 21st annual convention of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women met at Harrisburg today for the election of incumbent officers and to draft plans for the 1944 presidential election.

The increasing importance of women voters in the state as more men enter the armed services was stressed by council vice-president Mrs. George R. Lamade, of Williamsport. She expressed confidence that Pennsylvania would return the state to the Republican column next November with their aid.

Because women hold the balance of voting power within the G. O. P., Mrs. Lamade said they would shape their campaign to elect more women delegates and alternates to the Republican National convention next year. Delegates will be selected at the May primary election.

Mrs. Caroline Y. Huber, Jr., of Haverford, unopposed for re-election as council president, told the delegates it was their duty to "get out the vote" with the aid of the council's 40,000 members at the primary and general elections. They must "join in the wholehearted sacrificial effort toward victory in war, victory in peace and victory in 1944," she added.

Mrs. Lamade scored the federal government's administration of food rationing and emphasized the necessity of giving women a greater share in administering the nation's affairs.

CHILD KILLED IN FALL.

Says MacArthur Does Not Have Sufficient Troops

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, In The South Pacific, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur still does not have at his command the forces and material necessary for continued large-scale operations against the Japanese, a headquarters declared today.

Col. Le Grande A. Diller, replying to a statement by Rear Admiral W. H. Young of the United States Navy, said that less than five per cent of America's ground forces were in the Southwest Pacific and that Gen. MacArthur received less than 10 per cent of United States overseas shipments.

Admiral Young was quoted in a news dispatch as saying that supplies were going to the Southwest Pacific "in quantities sufficient for large-scale operations against the Japanese."

Col. Diller acknowledged that Gen. MacArthur now had at his disposal more men and materiel to fight with than he had formerly but he emphasized that the strength was by no means enormous.

The instructions to Gen. MacArthur to fight a holding war, said Col. Diller, have so far not been changed by Washington.

MAKES APPEAL TO BALTIC STATES

Latvian Minister Urges Russia
To Restore Independence
Of States

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—An appeal to Soviet Russia to restore the independence of Latvia and the other Baltic states after the Germans are driven out of those territories was made today by Dr. Alfred Bilmanis, Latvian minister in Washington.

In an executive statement, Dr. Bilmanis said Latvia, if restored as a separate state, would be willing to enter a United Nations security pact to help safeguard Russia from the danger of future aggression from any quarter. He expressed confidence that Lithuania and Estonia, the other two Baltic states, would be willing to do likewise.

With the fate of the Baltic states now in question as a result of the Moscow conference, the Latvian envoy showed some concern over secretary of State Cordell Hull's remarks that the right of people to choose their own form of government might have to be delayed in those countries beset by territorial disputes until such disputes have been settled on a permanent basis after the war.

A pumpkin makes a fine jack o' lantern. With holes cut for eyes, nose and mouth and a light inside, it makes a very pretty decoration. Pumpkins scattered over a corn field in the fall makes a very pretty picture, too.

Pumpkin pie is a favorite American dish. Combined with milk and egg and spices it does a good job. A pumpkin pie provides calories, vitamins and minerals in abundance. It tastes good, too. After all the taste is the main thing. A pie is not much good if it is not eaten. A large piece of pumpkin pie entirely surrounded by boy is a very fine proposition.

Ecclesian Club Amateur Night

Women's Ecclesian Club Participate In Amateur Night, Social Event

Amateur night at the Ecclesian club was presented to a capacity crowd in the Ecclesian club rooms, South Jefferson and South streets, Tuesday evening, the show starting at 8 o'clock.

The event was held in conjunction with the Women's Ecclesian club, and later a social time was also on the featured program.

Joe Factor, was the master of ceremonies, ably taking charge keeping the audience laughing with jokes and entertainment.

Those on the program included: Ellen and Irene Krueger, singing "Paper Doll" and "Coming In On a Wing and a Prayer"; Linda Laurel and Nedra Critchlow singing, "Caissons Go Rolling Along"; Alex Sansoni and John Peluso in a celebrated dance; Helen and Josephine Ritchie in "Over the Mountain"; Charles Kelly in "Grandfather's Beard"; Joe Factor with ukelele selections and imitations.

Frances Frey singing of the army K. P. on duty; Mrs. Ray McAuley and Francis Frey sang, "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. Clarence Brown at the piano; Vic and Johnny Ross, "Old McDonald Had a Duck"; Fritz Ulrich, sang "Irish Rose"; Charles Parone at the piano played "St. Louis Blues".

Quite a large crowd attended and seemed well pleased with the performance of the evening. Plans are being made to present the performance at the Deshon hospital in Butler, Pa. Later in the evening, dancing proved to be the main pastime.

Local Air Gunner
Is Given Citation

Staff Sergt. John J. Davicki
Cited For Attacks In Aleutians
And Kuriles

Staff Sergt. John J. Davicki, gunner, of 105½ Fulton street, this city, is one of six airmen of the 11th Air Force, located in the Alaskan department, who has been awarded the air medal for numerous attack missions against the Japanese, Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., of the Alaskan department announced today.

The citation reads as follows: "These officers and enlisted men as members of a bomber crew, participated in numerous attacks against Japanese installation in the western Aleutians and Kuriles."

Their citation said, "These missions were flown from advanced bases and necessitated long over water flights in land based planes. The teamwork and devotion to duty displayed by these officers and men reflect great credit on themselves and the army air forces."

JAP ARMY CORPS
COMMANDER KILLED

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The death of Lieut. Gen. Nobumasa Tominaga, commander of a Japanese army corps serving on the "southern front," was announced by the Tokyo radio.

The broadcast, heard by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service, said Tominaga died of sickness Nov. 9 while on active duty at the front.

Announcing that Tominaga had been posthumously promoted to full general, the Jap radio said he was in command of a "certain corps" on the southern front.

BELIEVE BOMBER AND CREW LOST AT SEA

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Search was abandoned today for a missing four-engined army bomber which took off from Morrison Field October 29 with 10 members of the crew and four passengers aboard.

The bomber was believed to have been lost at sea, army spokesmen said.

Crewmen aboard the missing craft included: Staff Sergt. Harold O. Wigfield, Everett, Pa.

WOMEN TO COLLECT
GARBAGE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Chicago's first experiment with women as garbage collectors will start Friday, William B. Johnson, secretary of the Chicago and suburban Seavenger Association, announced today.

Three of the fair sex will be first on the jobs heretofore exclusively monopolized by men. They will be attired in snappy new uniforms. Also they will be equipped with decorizing spray guns.

UNIQUE CLOCK

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—(INS)—A "weather clock" that records the time and kind of faint precipitation is in use at the Pennsylvania State College Meteorology laboratory.

Only one of its type in the world, the recorder was invented by Dr. Hans Neuberger, who is in charge of the laboratory, to keep track of extremely fine snow, rain, or hail and to register, too, the hour at which it fell.

Jobs Secured For Discharged Veterans

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The war manpower commission was credited today with finding "suitable employment" for 11,729 discharged World War II veterans from Pennsylvania during the first nine months of the year.

State veterans' representative, William O. Ilgenfritz, of the U. S. employment service, a W. M. C. branch, asserted that "we are placing in Pennsylvania about 80 per cent of the veterans who apply for jobs under the war manpower commission program." He disclosed that approximately 17,000 Pennsylvanians have received military discharges. Ilgenfritz explained that the program was designed to find employment which could be done within the work limitations of discharged veterans.

DISAPPOINTED SOLDIER
PEORIA, Ill.—(INS)—When Paul Battlora thinks of a telephone from now on he'll be sad. Paul, a Brooklyn soldier, at a USO party won in a drawing the right to make a phone call to any place in the United States. Naturally, he called his parents in Brooklyn. No one was at home!

RESUME PRODUCTION
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Officials at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's Irvin works expected full production to be resumed today with the return to work of 90 slabyard workers. The strike, which started last Sunday, caused a production loss of 9,800 tons, seven open hearth furnaces at the Duquesne works to be shut off, the laying off of 108 men on the hot mill and open hearths and further congestion in storage facilities. The walkout was started in protest of the suspension of a crane-man.

Governor Bricker Has Program For Postwar Period

Must Recapture Spirit Of Private Enterprise And Creative Genius In U. S.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Declaring that the present rate of industrial production must be maintained to avert "national bankruptcy," Gov. John W. Bricker today outlined a five-point program which he said must be followed to insure post-war prosperity. The Ohio governor, who two days ago formally announced his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, told the war conference of the National Association of Real Estate Boards that the interest alone on the national debt in the post-war period would be between six and seven billion dollars a year.

He was sharply critical of the present national tax structure, and accused the Roosevelt administration of violating the economy plank in its 1932 platform.

His five-point program "to recapture the spirit of private enterprise and release the creative genius of America" included:

- 1.—The elimination of waste and extravagance in government "to save billions more."
- 2.—To "bury forever the philosophy of scarcity."
- 3.—"Put an end to arrogant bureaucracy and needless regimentation," and "return the policy-making power of the government to the elected representatives of the people."
- 4.—Revise the federal tax structure to assure "a maximum of taxes where needed and also a maximum of encouragement to risk capital and industrial expansion."
- 5.—Reserve or return to the states or the people all powers not constitutionally granted to the federal government.

Controversy Over Overseas Soldier Method Of Voting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A heated behind-the-scenes political fight has broken out in Congress over what methods will be employed in allowing men in the armed services to vote by absentee ballot in the 1944 presidential election.

The controversy has reached such a point that a scheduled meeting of the House committee on presidential elections was called off today and further consideration of pending bills was postponed for a week in an attempt to work out a compromise.

The committee is headed by Rep. Gene Worthy (D) Tex., who served in the South Pacific with the navy last year and who contends "that nothing would be more stimulating to soldier morale than the chance for every person in the armed forces to vote."

MUCH "BOOTLEG" ALCOHOL
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—High-grade alcohol hijacked from truck shipments and stolen from the stocks of legitimate dealers is flooding the Philadelphia metropolitan area, it was indicated today. Officials said the new "bootleg" alcohol, running as high as 190 proof in strength, has largely replaced the "bath tub" prohibition type, since lack of sugar has cut small-time distilling to a minimum.

Must Now Induct Youth Of 18 Years Without Delay

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—(INS)—State Selective Service headquarters disclosed today that draft boards must now induct 18-year-old registrants as soon as they become of age because the backlog of youths has been exhausted.

Approximately 7000 youths in Pennsylvania become 18 each month, headquarters said. These registrants are processed immediately and inducted within a month. The draft boards, it was pointed out, are hard pressed in filling quotas because all reserves have been exhausted by enlistments in the army or navy enlisted reserves or inductions.

When the teen age draft became effective last December, the youths had a "waiting-period" before induction because the pressure upon draft boards was not as great. However, increased demands necessitating the calling of fathers have forced the boards to induct all available registrants before breaking up families.

The majority of the youths who have not enlisted in the reserves have no occupational skill, headquarters said, and are therefore not qualified for any deferments. A few stays of induction have been granted to permit the youths to wind up their last semesters at high school.

Postwar Policies To Aid Industry Urged By Dewey

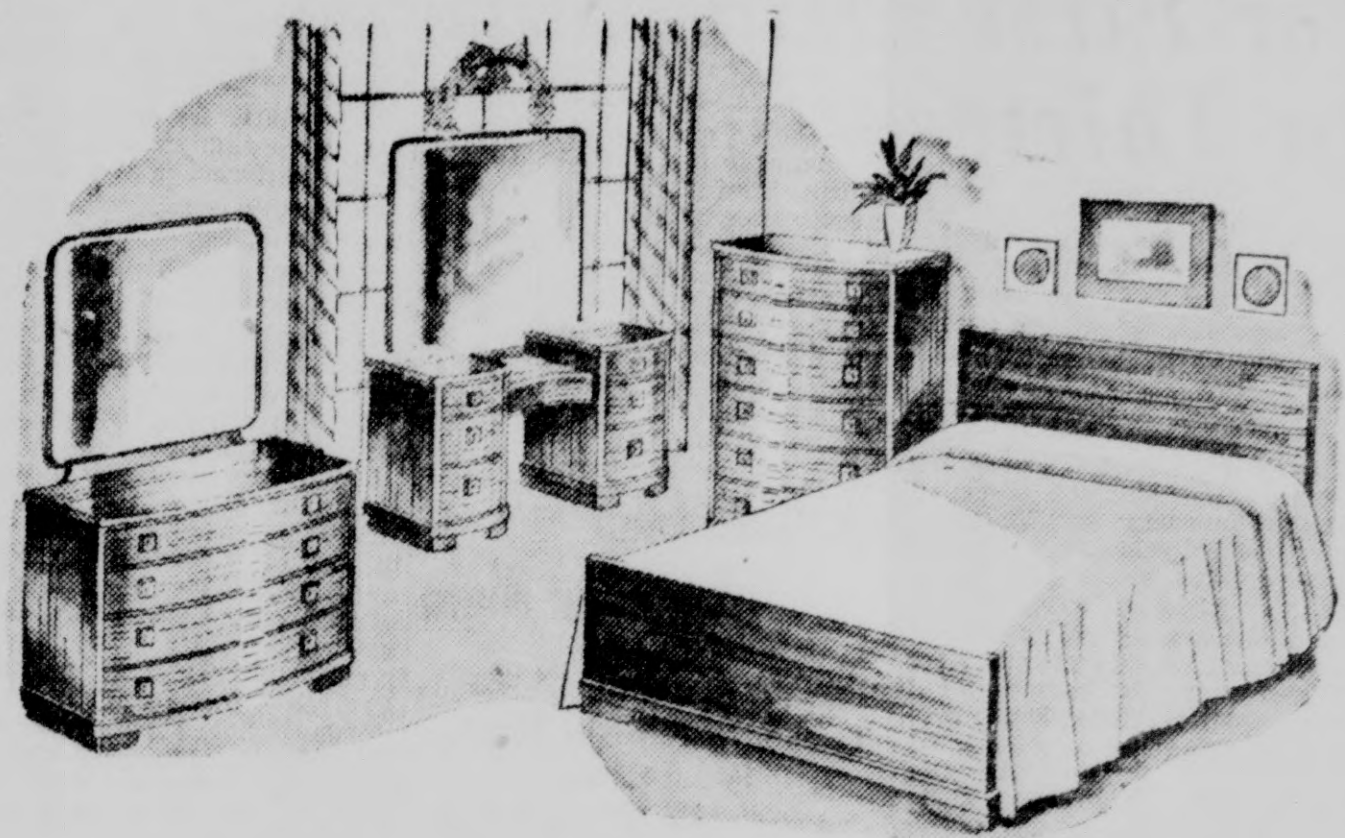

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The nation had a plea today from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York for post-war government policies that will enable private enterprise to "plunge into peace-time production with all the effectiveness it has devoted to the war."

Speaking before the Herald-Tribune annual forum current problem, the governor said: "The means government must not only plan the things it should do, but most particularly, it should refrain from doing. Most of us are agreed that there must be a shift in the concentration of power to the national government."

Pointing out that the states will be strong after the war, since they alone will have no overburdening debt, Dewey called for "a new kind of partnership" between national, state and local governments.

Report Fierce Tribesmen Gather In Beirut Sector

CAIRO, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Reports from Lebanon today said that large, armed companies of Lebanese—including fierce Druse tribesmen as well as Christians—were gathered in the mountains 20 miles from Beirut.

These groups, Lebanese sources said, were formed and are led by the Emir Arslan, former national defense minister of Lebanon. It now has been established, these sources declared, that 30 Lebanese deputies so far are known to have escaped arrest. They meet daily in a district which contains no French troops.

Although a few scattered shootings still are reported, street-cars operated in Beirut yesterday for the first time since the beginning of the Franco-Lebanese disturbances last Thursday. However, after operating only half an hour, the cars were called in and service was ordered discontinued.

Some shops still remained closed, and non-official telephone service still is disconnected in Lebanon. However, that the situation was easing was indicated by a Beirut broadcast which said the curfew, originally enforced from 6 p. m. had been relaxed and now commences at 8:30 p. m.

Medical Society To Hear Speaker

Regular meeting of the Lawrence County Medical Society will be held on Friday evening, November 19, at which time Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., professor of epidemiology in the School of Public Health at the University of Michigan will be speaker. This meeting scheduled earlier in the month, was postponed in order that the society would be able to have Dr. Francis as their speaker. Dr. Francis is a New Castle man, and his mother, Mrs. T. Francis, Sr., is a well-known resident of Craig street, this city.

A plane pilot taking off from London airport, January 6, would find when he landed in Belgrade the next morning that it was Christmas in Yugoslavia.

Irish Picked To March Through Unbeaten, Untied

Notre Dame Bidding For First Clean Slate In Thirteen Seasons

Irish's T Rated Too Potent For Seahawks, Great Lakes, Remaining Foes

Victorious in easy does it fashion eight times so far, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, on their way to the first undefeated and untied season in 13 years, today are selected to accomplish that end despite the absence of Angelo Bertelli.

Granted that the Iowa Seahawks, Saturday's foe, and Great Lakes, the following week, rank as stiff competition, nothing seems to be able to halt the unstoppable march of Leahy's TNT-loaded T.

Win With Ease Starting with Pittsburgh's 41-0 crushing, the Irish battered Georgia Tech 55-13, then masticated Michigan 35-12, slaughtered Wisconsin 50-0, punched holes into Illinois 47-0, and followed with routs of Navy, 24-6, Army, 26-0, and Northwestern, 25-0.

So far, the T has worked like a magic charm. Barring bad weather, which could easily choke the T, the Leahymen, packed with unbelievable punch and rare precision, should sail through as the greatest team of the past two decades, and perhaps the strongest in the history of the game.

Leahy, now in his third season at Notre Dame and boasting a fine record of 23 victories, two losses and one tie, has welded another formidable squad this season judging by the team's showings.

Veterans Around Leahy had to build without Bob Dove, Lou Rykowski, Wally Ziemba, Harry Wright, George Murphy, Corwin Clatt and Bob Livingstone, all lettermen and regulars last season.

He did have a few veterans and regulars last season. Capt. Pat Filley, guard; John Yonakor and Paul Lamont, ends; Jim White and Ziggy Czarowski, tackles; Bertelli and Mello, backs.

In addition, there were some Navy trainee transfers to select from. Of this group, the only regular has been Julius Rykovich, the Gary Ind., Croatia, who played fine football as a freshman at Illinois last season. Rykovich was an all-state high school choice in 1941.

55th Season This is Notre Dame's 55th season of football. The record shows the Irish have won 332 games, lost 72 and tied 27 in that time. Irish teams have claimed the national championship several times. Under the late Knute Rockne Notre Dame won 105 games, lost 12 and tied five. Hank Anderson followed Rock and his teams won 16, lost nine and tied two. Elmer Layden, one of the "Four Horsemen" and now commissioner of pro football, was the next Irish coach and his clubs won 47 games, lost 13 and tied three.

Last season the Irish won seven, lost two and tied two. Only two teams—the Iowa Seahawks and Great Lakes—separate the Irish from the first unbeaten and untied record in 13 years. The way the Leahymen are moving down everything in sight, it's difficult to see how the last two foes will toss a bombshell into the ND record.

Grid Tidbits

PURDUE DRILLS

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Minus the driving power of Tony Butkovich and Bill Stuart, V-12 transfer losses, the Purdue Boilermakers were attempting today to fashion an aerial attack for Saturday's contest with Indiana at Bloomington.

WISSE NAMED CAPTAIN

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Fullback Bob Wisse was named by Coach Fritz Crisler today to captain the Michigan Wolverines in their engagement with Ohio State at Ann Arbor Saturday. With a share in the Western Conference title at stake, the Wolverines drilled hard on defense against Buckeye backs Ernie Parks and Dean Sensenbaur.

CATS STRESS PASSING

EVANSTON, Ill.—Northwestern put its money today on the passing arm of Otto Graham and the running of Joe Scrba in its plans to turn back the Illinois invasion Saturday. Coach Lynn Waldorf warned the Wildcats they will have to stop the two diminutive Illini backs, Eddie Bray and Eddie McGovern.

TEMPLE HOPES HIGH

PHILADELPHIA—Temple's Owls hoped today to end their five game losing streak with a victory over Villanova in the season finale at Temple stadium Saturday. A strong stand against Penn State last week and return to action of Jim Nagy, brilliant guard, boosted Owl hopes.

BO LAYS TRAPS

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Coach Bo McMillin was laying new traps for the Purdue Boilermakers as he sent his Indiana Hoosiers through another secret practice today. Edward Schuenen and Bob Hoernschesky, never attempted in the passing and kicking position.

Unbeaten, Untied List Includes 13 Teams

College football's unbeaten and untied circle remained at 13 following games last week end. The roll is bound to feel the knife this week as Notre Dame and the Iowa Seahawks, two of the leaders, meet each other at South Bend. Records of undefeated and untied eleven (three games or more):

Team	G.	W.	L.	T.	O.P.
1. Notre Dame	8	8	0	0	0
2. Iowa Seahawks	8	8	0	0	0
3. Purdue	8	8	0	0	0
4. Randolph Field, Texas	8	8	0	0	0

Ex-Prize Fighter Gets Prison Term

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—An ex-prize fighter who once earned $10,000 a year in the ring was denounced in general sessions today as a neighborhood bully and sentenced by Judge Goldstein to 2½ to 5 years in prison after pleading guilty to second degree robbery. He is Angelo De Sanza, 21, lightweight known professionally as Terry Young, and once rated as a contender for the crown in his class. With four other men, De Sanza held up 25 members of the Eighth A. D. Democratic club last February 16.

Sugar-Orange Bowl Contests Lack Attraction

Hard Pressed For Big Name Teams; Duke Seems South's Best

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and the Orange Bowl at Miami undoubtedly will be filled with football and football fanatics on New Year's Day, in keeping with post-season custom but exactly what they will use for teams remains a point open to considerable debate. Assuming they will seek competing teams from the south in compliance with travel restrictions, they will be hard pressed to come up with attractions equal to those in other bowls.

This isn't always so. The Sugar Bowl has turned into a real competitor of the Rose Bowl in national interest, and the Orange Bowl isn't far behind on the strength of games down under the waving palms in recent semesters.

But the south is shy of standout eleven's year.

Roses Game Set

The Rose Bowl at Pasadena already has selected Southern California and Washington for its New Year's Day attraction and gets a corking sectional battle in lieu of the usual intersectional game between the Coast Conference champion and the standout eleven in the east or south.

Until their last two games, the Southern California Trojans had been unscathed upon, but promptly turned about to lose two in a row. Miamians they also have lost some valuable players through transfers. Washington is unbeaten, but probably not as good as that sounds considering the competition has been something less than sensational.

The unbeaten Colorado college eleven has made a bid to appear in the Dallas Cotton Bowl against Texas or Texas A & M, one of which undoubtedly will represent the southwest in that sector's configuration. Then game two weeks hence will determine which it will be. The loser probably will be a candidate for the El Paso Sun Bowl where the University of New Mexico will be host to visitors.

Texas A & M is unbeaten but once tied in eight games. Texas is once beaten in seven games. Neither team has suffered its setback against a Southwest Conference eleven, so the conference title will be at stake when they tangle up. The outstanding team in the south at the moment undoubtedly is Duke, which has lost only to Navy and that by one point—14 to 13. Meantime the so-called Blue Devils have run up 308 points against 28 while beating Camp Lejeune, Richmond, North Carolina pre-flight school, North Carolina, Georgia Tech, North Carolina State and Virginia Tech.

Once you get away from Duke you get into confusion. Georgia has lost twice to Louisiana State and once to Daniel Field, while Louisiana State has been swamped by Georgia Tech, which, in turn has been beaten by Duke, among others. The others are Notre Dame and Navy, which may not be such a bluish at that. North Carolina seems to be the next best, with a record of five wins, including that upset over Penn, against two defeats.

It must be apparent from the foregoing that the main problem confronting the promoters of the two southern bowls is to find a couple of opponents who have already lost to each other, not to mention to an outsider.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Ed. Dudley of Colorado Springs, Colo., was re-elected president of the Professional Golfers association for the third consecutive time at Chicago yesterday. He defeated George Jacobus of Ridgewood, N. J., Frank Sprogel of Grand Rapids, Mich., was re-elected secretary, and Willie McGuire of Houston, Texas, was named treasurer.

Russell Baxter, stationed with the army near New York, won a fight on a decision at the Ridgewood Grove club, New York, recently. He has been boxing regularly since his induction.

Leo Mackey was elected president of the Pittsburgh chapter Eastern Intercollegiate Football Officials association. He succeeds Joe Gannon. Yanz Wallace is vice president and Calvin Bolster, secretary.

Cornell's hopes of beating Penn. Turkey Day were dimmed with the announcement that six of Cornell's players have been declared ineligible because of scholastic marks.

Winter Baseball Players May Be Fined By Landis

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Two Quaker city major league ball players were among a dozen left leaguers who may be fined by baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Landis for playing winter league ball in California.

Babe Dahlgren, Phillies infielder, and Jess Flores, Athletics' moundsman were notified yesterday to submit their earnings since 10 days after the 1943 season closed. Players are allowed to barnstorm only within that 10-day period. Landis ordered the men to stop playing several days ago. Fines to the amount of their extra baseball earnings are expected.

Mattioli To Lead Pitt On Saturday

Panthers Preparing For Annual Battle With Penn State Eleven

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Francis Mattioli, Pitt's senior left guard, will serve as acting captain for the third time this season when the Panthers play their final game against Penn State college Saturday in Pittsburgh. The poor form displayed by Pitt in the lopsided loss to Ohio State has resulted in drastic measures taken by Coach Clark Shaughnessy, whose strategy staff has been working overtime to revive the winning spark.

At Penn State, Coach Bob Higgins emphasized that his squad needed plenty of hard work if it hoped to cope with Pitt's ingenious "T" formation.

With only a little better than two teams to choose from, as compared to his one-time mighty 75-man squad, Higgins has put his charges to work and kept them hustling.

GALENTI PASSES FIRST PHYSICAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Two-ton Tony Gale, who used to "molder de bums" as a heavyweight boxer, gloved meaningfully today in the direction of the Japs and Nazis.

Tony, now only a shadow of his former self—he tips the beam at a mere 250 pounds—announced that he was in training for induction into the army.

According to his draft board, Tony, who is 33 and has a five-year-old son, has passed his preliminary test and probably will be called to the colors within 30 days. On learning the news, Tony promptly called off a scheduled exhibition appearance in Sioux Falls, S. D., and said: "Any branch of the service they put me in is okay wit' me. I'll molder de bums."

Crippled Seahawks Continue Workouts

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Except for Duke Curran, replacement for the injured Frank Maznicki and Nicki Kerasiotis, guard, unbeaten Iowa Seahawks labored through hard workouts today to polish up their attack for the Notre Dame game Saturday.

Curran and Kerasiotis are nursing leg injuries and may be able to withstand only limited action Saturday.

LATE FLASHES

DUDLEY RE-ELECTED CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Ed Dudley, of Colorado Springs, has been re-elected president of the Professional Golfers' association for the third straight time. Frank Sprogel, of Grand Rapids, has been re-named secretary.

MACKEY IS NAMED PITTSBURGH Leo Mackey heads the Pittsburgh chapter of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Officials' association. He was named during a meeting last night and succeeds Joe Gannon. Yanz Wallace is vice president, while Cal Bolster is secretary.

METHENY REJECTED ROANOKE, Va.—Arthur "Bud" Metheny, New York Yankee second string right fielder, was rejected for military service yesterday due to a "trick knee." He is 26. He was hurt during high school football playing days.

F. & M. WANTS BID PHILADELPHIA—Franklin and Marshall, the only unbeaten and untied team in the east, has put out a bid for an invitation to play in one of the bowls.

CORNELL HIT HARD ITHACA—Chances of a victory over Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving Day suffered a terrific jolt when a half dozen Cornell players were declared ineligible yesterday due to scholastic ineligibility. Grant Ellis, guard, and Murdo MacDonald, end, varsity men, are on the list.

Defensively, the 1943 Penn State Nittany Lions are rated among the first ten teams in the nation.

Cox, Phil Prexy, Is Placed In 2-B

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—William D. Cox, 33-year-old president of the national baseball league Philadelphia Phillies, has been reclassified 2-B and deferred for six months. Henry G. Bartol, president of local draft board 42, said today: "We called him in when we were reclassifying our 3-A's." Bartol said: "Since he is president of a lumber company (Piling Associates, Inc.), we decided his work was necessary to the war effort. No mention was made of baseball in our talk."

Baugh Trails Sid Luckman In Pro Race

Bears' Star Needs Two Touchdown Passes To Break Isbell's Record

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Sid Luckman's two new National Football League forward passing records against the New York Giants Sunday were more than enough to keep the pitching star of the Chicago Bears in front of Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins in the race for top honors.

The intense rivalry of these two veterans made them today the hottest attraction in football particularly in view of the aerial duel they are expected to stage when their teams meet next Sunday in Washington.

They also are likely to face each other again in the play-off game for the league championship December 19 in Chicago's Wrigley Field, each team being favored to win its sectional title. Luckman far outshone anything he had achieved before in Sunday's game against the Giants.

Approaches Record Completing 21 out of 32 passes for 433 yards and seven touchdowns in that game, Luckman now needs only two more touchdowns passes in two games to break the Cecil Isbell's alltime mark of 24 for one season, the previous marks of six touchdowns and 376 yards in one game were made by Baugh himself a couple of weeks ago, incidentally.

And Baugh, who was not idle over the week-end, tossed four scoring aerials against Detroit. Sammy has 19 touchdowns passes to his credit.

Luckman is favored to smash another record made by Isbell last year—2021 yards gained on passes in a single season. Sid's total now is 1808, leaving him with only 214 yards to get in two games.

Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers increased his scoring lead, his total for eight games being 78, after he racked up 23 points last Sunday. Harry Clark of the Bears leads in ground gaining with a total of 465 yards.

Leahy Stresses Defensive Play

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 17.—(INS)—Heavy workouts on defense were ordered by Coach Frank Leahy today for his Notre Dame squad in preparation for its crucial game Saturday against the Iowa Seahawks at South Bend.

Bob Kelly, second string halfback, was expected to see considerable action in Saturday's battle to take advantage of his kicking ability.

SPORTS RAMBLINGS

Sports Chips!—One of those letters that touches internally came to my desk today. The author, Tech. Sgt. Ralph Ruffles, Johns, ex-gate crasher, movie bit player and at one time a pretty fair Ne-Ca-Hi footballer, recently jotted down a few thoughts that bobbed up while convalescing in a hospital. He writes:

"It is getting close to Thanksgiving and Christmas and I thought I would drop you an hello to all. I'm in a hospital, so now I can concentrate a bit on a few of my old memories—Lincoln-Garfield school, Ben Franklin and last but not least New Castle High. Memories are a funny thing, you think of old friends and happenings, knowing that when this is all over, we will all look forward to seeing these friends and happenings again. To those I may never see again, God bless them."

"Some of us will be luckier than others, but I know we are all thinking of one thing, no matter where we are. I dream of it nightly. Sure I have done a lot of traveling and have been through a lot. That means nothing now. It's what we all want—home, companionship, love and care. May God bring us all back. If I don't get back this year, Merry Christmas to all. I hope I return after three years to extend these greetings in person. Love, Ruffles." If you have a few idle moments, how's about a line or two to Johns. His address: Hq. Sq. First Air Depot, APO 825, c/o Postmaster, New Orleans.

Around the globe!—Ben Hogan, golf's leading money winner before his induction into the armed service, has been elevated to the rank of second lieutenant at Miami Beach, Fla. Al Garlie is a grifter at Penn State!... Hunters fortunate enough to bag a deer might remember that hides are used to manufacture "trigger-finger mittens". Our armed forces need 'em...

Is Coach William King's face red? And how! His Llanerch eleven, nearby Philly, recently was beaten by Chestnutwood, 40-21. The winning eleven is coached by Mrs. Edgar Smith!... Fairmont Park race track, strange as it may seem, has never been a money maker and will be sold! Just think how much money a sal could make if she could sing the blues like Coach Frank Leahy, of Notre Dame...

Industrial League practices on Friday night: 7:00 to 8:00—Johnson Bronze. 8:00 to 9:00—Radiators Works. 9:00 to 10:00—Aluminum Works.

TO BANQUET TEAM GROVE CITY, Nov. 17.—Mothers of the championship Grove City high school football squad, unbeaten in seven starts after losing to New Castle, will tender them a banquet Thursday evening at the Penn Grove Hotel. Dancing will follow the banquet.

Rep Guidolin drew first blood by scoring for the Bruins on a pass from Harvey Jackson in the first period. In the second frame, Gerry Heffernan of Montreal tied the game at one-all. Then Toe Blake of the Canadiens, with the assistance of Elmer Lach and Joe Filion, smashed through with a 15-foot left-angle shot.

The final period had only four minutes to go when Harvey "Bush-er" Jackson of the Bruins tied the score again on an assist by Bill Cowley.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

A snappy morning it was too . . . just the snappiest one that has graced our country side this fall. Makes one begin to think about Thanksgiving . . . and then it will soon be Christmas time . . . that is why these dogs that we are about to tell you are a very important right now . . . every American boy should have a dog . . . man's best friend. If you are interested in any of the following just remember they are FREE but you must promise to give each and every one a mighty fine home.

Phone 8127-R. . . Two dogs, one male and one female . . . about spitz and bull dog . . . males and females . . . call right now.

Phone 6234-J. . . 2 female Bull Dogs about 6 weeks old . . . Mighty lively pets, get your request in early.

Phone 3380-R. . . Here is a very highly recommended dog . . . he's about one year old and reported to be fine with children. Seldom barks and can eat anything. Will make an ideal pet for small children.

On Display at the Farm Products Show will be a demonstration of the newly popular deep freeze refrigerators . . . P. S. They are manufactured right here in New Castle . . . make it a point to see this and many more interesting facts about food . . . its preparation, preservation and cultivation. Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Lawrence Auto Sales Building . . . South Mercer Street, New Castle . . . doors open 7 p. m. Thursday evening. Musicals every mte.

It's the one who likes to share his wealth with others that gets the most out of life . . . wealth doesn't always mean "cash" . . . the one who has the knack to make others laugh . . . who can entertain with prose or poetry . . . or help another with his knowledge . . . one who will take on a job and do it with a smile while others are just thinking about it. Congratulations to the woman who had the street light erected at the end of Wilmington Avenue.

RELEASED WAR PRISONER TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

First Repatriated Prisoner Of War Arrives At Home In Brooklyn

By JEANETTE SMITS
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The first New York soldier to arrive back in this city after having been a prisoner of war in Germany, told the story of his two and a half months as a captive of the Nazis today.

Pvt. Herbert L. Ehrlich, 24, of Brooklyn, released from a Nazi prison camp at Memmingen on Oct. 16 recently returned to this country and is now on a 30-day furlough from Walter Reed Hospital in Washington. He told reporters grimly:

"Being a prisoner was the second worst thing I went through in the war."

"The first was lying in a shell-hole in Sicily for 16 hours, bleeding and helpless, shivering with cold without food or water. I thought I was going to die. When a Nazi soldier appeared with a drawn pistol, I thought he was going to kill me. Then, while I was in the prison hospital, I was sure I was in for the duration of the war. But I got home. What more could anyone ask for?"

Private Ehrlich, short, slight of build, sat beside his 66-year-old father, Herman, a Brooklyn plumber, as he faced reporters at headquarters of the Second Service Command. He had just been reunited with his father, mother and six brothers and sisters after many drama-filled months.

Captured In Sicily
He told how, after several campaigns in Tunisia, he had spent 20 days in Sicily when he was wounded and captured. Private Ehrlich was then a "walkie-talkie" man with the infantry.

"We had taken a hill near Troina, but under heavy artillery attack had to withdraw. A shell landed near me, and fragments from it struck me in the back, the lungs and right leg. I couldn't move. I was flung into a shell-hole and stayed there 16 hours, all alone until the Nazis arrived. They took me to a German command post and then to a first aid station."

"The Germans did not seem unfriendly. One of them gave me one of his own cigarettes. When you consider they only get six a day, that was quite a sacrifice. At the first aid station, I saw one of the men from my own company—a Pennsylvanian. He was badly hurt. I don't know whether he ever got out of there alive."

Ehrlich was captured on Aug. 1 and later taken to Naples. "Naples I was taken to a hospital and interrogated," he related. The Germans were so short of bandages that they had to sterilize the dressings and use them over again.

"At Memmingen, a surgeon took one piece of shrapnel out of me. The others are still in. I stayed at the camp there for six weeks."

The officers would come around and bowl us out every once in a while, but since we didn't understand German, we didn't know what they were talking about. We were allowed to write two letters and two post-cards a month home, but mine still haven't arrived."

The Brooklyn private was stunned when a German doctor came around and told him he was to be repatriated.

Ehrlich was asked how he felt about going back to active service when he is fully recovered.

"I've had my stomach full of it," he said.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

Different Army officials have made statements regarding blackouts and air raid drills in Pennsylvania. They say there will be practice drills. Many of these statements have been published in the newspapers. OCD workers should be on the alert and ready for whatever comes.

Some groups which have gas masks due them should contact city office, delivery will be arranged. The OCD still has plenty of stirrup pumps for distribution.

Test incidents which were mailed to senior wardens by the city office for training of persons that will be called upon to use the telephone during the time of a drill or otherwise has been discontinued temporarily.

Group leaders should list scheduled meetings with the City OCD. People look for these lists. If you do not have your meeting listed in this column many of the people you want present will not know of the meeting. Representatives of this office would like to visit from time to time, but if the OCD does not know when your meetings are held this can not be done.

Wife Of Count To Go To Palm Beach

Will Confer With Mother "Concerning The Future" Says Report

NASSAU, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Pretty, red-haired Nancy De Marigny today was expected to fly to Palm Beach, Fla., to confer with her mother, Lady Elaine Oakes, "concerning the future."

The 19-year-old wife of Count Alfred De Marigny, recently acquitted of charges of murdering her father, Sir Harry Oakes, was so disappointed at not being able to obtain a seat on yesterday's plane that she was near collapse and was placed under a doctor's care.

Friends said Nancy is highly nervous as a result of the lengthy trial of her husband, aggravated by need for a jaw operation which has been put off for some time due to her father's slaying and subsequent developments.

Asks For Probe Of Regulations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Senator Rufus C. Holman (R-Ore.) introduced a resolution today calling for a sweeping Senate investigation of federal regulations governing the distribution of meat, poultry and dairy products.

Holman called existing conditions in these markets "chaotic." He asked that a five-man committee be set up by the upper chamber to report its findings to Congress at its earliest possible date and make any recommendations it thought advisable.

Eagles To Have Big Initiation

Past State President Splain Of Oil City Will Be Speaker At Event Sunday

Maurice Splain, Jr., Oil City, past worthy state president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, the youngest man to ever hold this office, will be the principal speaker on Sunday, when New Castle Aerie No. 455 F. O. E. will initiate a class of 100 candidates.

The class is dedicated to the memory of Pfc. John Smolkowicz, a member of the local Aerie, who died for victory in North Africa, and the degree and new drill team will have charge of the initiation ceremony. Harry Evans is president of the degree team and Capt. John J. Sutton is captain of the drill team. Refreshments will be served after the initiation ceremony.

Pension Increase For Disabled U. S. Veterans Approved

By WILLIAM THEIS (N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The house on Tuesday unanimously approved a 15 per cent increase in pensions for disabled veterans of both world wars one and two. The roll call vote was 341 to 0.

The bill, which now goes to the senate as the first of two veterans measures called up this week, affects more than 362,000 veterans. It also provides proportionate increases to meet increased living costs, in death benefits to families of veterans who had service-connected disabilities.

Expectation of the world war veterans committee that the bill would not be acted on until today was reversed when the house acted Tuesday ahead of legislation boosting monthly pensions of permanently disabled veterans of the war of '17 and '18.

The bay tree formerly was regarded as a symbol of resurrection.

One-Year Work Period Is Urged After High School

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Dr. William A. Neilson, president emeritus of Smith College, on Tuesday urged a voluntary one-year "work period" for young men and women between high school and college.

Addressing the New York Forum on current affairs sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune, Dr. Neilson said:

"The labor year which has been tried in several European countries, as in Germany years before the advent of Hitler, has been meant merely to extract from 18-year-olds a contribution to the production of the nation but to extend their horizons in every direction by bringing them into contact with other social and economic strata, and by leading them to feel themselves a living part of the economy of their country."

Neilson declared that such a program adopted as compulsory by the government would be "in many ways repellant to our demand for individual freedom." But, he added, "it might be possible to extract from the experience of those countries which have tried it elements which might be adapted to a voluntary system."

Discarded Clothing Drive Now Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The War Production Board announced today a nationwide drive for collection of discarded clothing to help rehabilitating liberated European countries and for relief purposes at home.

The drive, to be held from Nov. 22 through Dec. 4, also will include collection of rags which are badly needed by the armed forces and industry, WPB said.

Among the clothing items not wanted, WPB said, are brassieres, spats, veils, corsets, girdles, diapers and masquerade costumes.

REDDY TIPS for Conservation

A WORD TO THE WISE — RANGE USER

HERE'S HOW

- Don't turn on burners until you are ready to cook.
- Whenever possible plan whole-oven meals, so as to use oven to capacity.
- Don't use your oven to heat your kitchen.
- Cook vegetables in small amounts of water.
- Use the small units for small pans. Using large burners unnecessarily wastes heat.
- Be sure your oven doors close firmly. Escaping heat wastes electricity.

IT PAYS!

- Proper Care will keep it working economically for the duration.
- ...will insure well-cooked, healthful food, for your family's wartime appetites.

Nazi Reserves Seeking To Halt Russian Drive

German High Command Throwing In Vast Reserves On Front

FALL OF KOROSTEN APPEARS PROBABLE

By NATALIA RENE
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Nov. 17.—The Nazi high command today was throwing vast reserves into the Gomel-Rechitsa-Korosten-Zhitomir section of the battlefield in a frantic effort to stem the surging Soviet drive toward the Polish frontier.

The fall of Korosten, vital Nazi-held all center, appeared near and around this sector alone more than 1,000 Germans were killed in Tuesday's fighting, Moscow claimed.

Six miles from Korosten, Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's Ukraine army advanced to within six miles of Korosten after passing through captured Elobich.

The Germans threw in regrouped infantry units and tank forces in an effort to restore their positions. Russian artillery opened up a heavy barrage against German fortifications on the outskirts of Gomel.

In the vicinity of Pastov southeast of Zhitomir the Germans left another 500 dead as they fell back before the Russian advance, and the smoking ruins of 36 Nazi tanks remained on the battlefield.

Counter-attacks North of Gomel—now virtually encircled by a gradually-closing ring of Russian troops—the Nazis counter-attacked frantically but Moscow claimed each attempt was repulsed and that 1,500 Germans were slain. Fighting to expand their bridgehead on the right bank of the Sozh river, Russian troops "captured a number of strongly fortified enemy positions, considerably improving our position," a Moscow communique stated.

The situation of the Nazi forces holding Korosten was indeed grim as the Russians today claimed capture of Zlobich, 17 miles to the southeast, and of Obukhovo, 16 miles to the northeast, of that railway junction.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Now is the time that purchases of war bonds and stamps should not be relaxed. The war is going at greater speed now than at any time since it started and the cost is mounting steadily. Keep up your purchases of war bonds and stamps.

New Castle's park bench barometer would indicate today that wintry weather has arrived. The benches in the park, which have been well occupied many times in the past few weeks, were strangely devoid of any occupants today.

While no reports have been made to Pa New as yet, the first ice skating of the season will probably be on the program with a few more nights like last night, when the temperature got several degrees below freezing.

Scheduling of the New Castle-Warren postponed football game for Saturday afternoon at Taggart stadium, eliminates the forecast that this would be a season without a daylight football game for the New Castle team. All games so far this season have been played at night.

The current cold snap is hanging on much longer than is generally the case, and is probably what the Indians would have referred to as squaw winter. Last year, the first cold snap, which started at the same date as this one this year, only lasted five days. A year ago yesterday, the mercury was up in the 60's, while local residents found this morning, the coldest of the fall.

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today are as follows:

ALLIED AIR ASSAULTS WIDENED

Allied bombing of fortress Europe accelerates as American heavy bombers based in the British Isles attack targets in Nazi-occupied Norway and airdromes in Greece after raiding Sofia, Bulgarian capital. Four-motored Liberators and twin-motored Mitchells blasted the Eleusis and Kalamaki airfields in Athens in support of British and Italian troops battling the Germans in the Dodecanese islands. Reports from Turkey state that 2,000 Germans have been killed in four days of fighting with British and Italian troops on the Dodecanese island of Leros.

Many Assaults Are Made By Planes From Mediterranean Bases

By GRAHAM HOVEY

ALGIERS, Nov. 17.—Two air-dromes near Marseille from which the German air force has been carrying out attacks on Allied Mediterranean shipping were cratered today and their installations reduced to smoking ruins following a devastating double-barrelled assault by American Flying Fortresses and Marauders.

The raids on the airfields in southern France were highlights in a day of heavy slugging by the Allied air forces in the Mediterranean area, which included:

- Attacks Made
1. Another damaging attack by American Mitchells on the Eleusis airfield near Athens, where fires still were burning from the previous day's raid by Liberators;
2. The hitting of harbor installations (Continued On Page Two)

Westminster 'Grads' Gather

Alumni And Former Students Have Dinner Meeting Tuesday Night

BUTLER ATTORNEY MAKES ADDRESS

Westminster alumni and Westminster-in-laws gathered Tuesday night, November 16, in the dining room of the Epworth Methodist church for what Alumni President Russell Weller, of Cleveland, O. termed "the best alumni reunion of the year". Over 150 former students and their spouses met at dinner, and after dinner listened to a Westminster graduate, Attorney Luther Braham, of Butler, deliver an address.

Attorney Braham's address was unusual. Unusual in the fact that it was not splashed with patriotic oratory, touched not at all upon problems of economics or government but stood as an address concerning the fundamental deencies, "Truth, Honor, Others and God". He pointed out the need for truth in daily life, honor in dealings, respect for others and the fact that God still reigned.

Roy M. Jamison, Toastmaster Attorney Roy M. Jamison was the toastmaster of the evening. Prior to the service of the dinner he asked Rev. W. E. Minter, of Ellwood City, to deliver the invocation. During the dinner Dudley Arnold directed pop singing with Mrs. Dorothy Patch Purdue at the piano. Officers of the Lawrence county (Continued On Page Two)

Practice Day Air Raid Alert In State Today

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—A practice day air raid alert—embracing the states of Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland—was sounded today by the army's third service command.

Differing from the usual alert, the army omitted the red signal and used only the yellow, blue and white.

The yellow indicated approaching planes; the blue that the planes had altered their course and the white that all was clear.

The signals for Pennsylvania were to have been sounded as follows: Yellow at 10:20; blue at 10:40 and the all clear at 11:00. These times were observed in Philadelphia, but the signals were not sounded in unison throughout the state although they were meant to have been.

No sirens wailed in Harrisburg; Dauphin County received only the blue signal, while the sirens shrieked in Pittsburgh at 10:24, 10:45 and 11:02, respectively. The signals in Virginia were set as follows: Yellow at 8:20, blue at 8:40 and all clear at 9:00. In Maryland, they were yellow at 8:20, blue at 9:40 and white at 10:00.

Report Bulgaria Is Seeking Peace

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Unconfirmed reports reached London today that Bulgarian officials are seeking to enlist Hungary's co-operation in seeking a joint peace with the Allies.

A Zurich dispatch to Reuters' News Agency asserted that the first step in the move was taken by the Bulgarian cabinet at an urgent session yesterday, during which the possibilities of peace were discussed at length.

Following this meeting, Foreign Minister Shishmanoff left by plane for Budapest to pursue the topic further with officials of the Hungarian government, Zurich sources said.

Jap Shipping Continues To Suffer Losses

Eight Thousand Ton Merchantman Is Sunk In Rabaul Area

TWO OTHER SHIPS BADLY DAMAGED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 17.—The ceaseless campaign of Allied airmen to destroy Jap shipping in the Southwest Pacific resulted today in the sinking of an 8,000-ton merchantman, the beaching of a second and damaging of a third. Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in his daily communique that twin motored American Mitchell bombers caught two of the Jap ships off Rabaul, bomb-battered New Britain island enemy base toward which the vessels apparently were heading.

Two Direct Hits Two direct hits from most height scored in a skip-bombing assault caused the 8,000-ton craft to sink immediately. The second was damaged.

Night patrol bombers spotted the third enemy ship, a craft of 9,000 tons, in the St. George channel adjacent to the Bismarck sea. The vessel was beached on the coast of New Ireland after suffering at least one direct hit.

Allied torpedo and dive-bombers continued to hammer the Japs throughout the Bougainville Island area of the Solomons in support of United States Marines and Army forces battling the Japs inland from their Empress Augusta Bay beachhead.

Amish minister and his nephew were killed in crash today when a truck, operated by a hit-and-run driver, smashed into the rear of their horse-drawn carriage.

The accident happened on the Lincoln Highway at Leaman Place 12 miles east of Lancaster.

The dead were the Rev. Christian L. Fisher, 74, and Amos S. Fisher, 48, both of Runk. The injured were Christian M. Fisher who escaped serious injury, and his brother Noah, who has a fractured skull.

Later, police arrested Walter Stiffler of Glen Rock, York county in his truck at the Gap. Stiffler police said admitted being the hit-and-run driver.

Patrol Clashes Reported Along Italian Front

Extremely Bad Weather Continues To Restrict Large Military Operations

YANKS RECAPTURE SOME LOST GROUND

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Nov. 17.—British Eighth Army forces engaged the Germans in eastern Italy in bitter patrol clashes today and captured some Nazi prisoners.

Extremely bad weather continued to restrict military operations, especially those of the Anglo-American Fifth Army manning the western half of the transpeninsular front.

Units of the Eighth were reported to have seized further high ground on the eastern flank of the battlefield.

High winds and cold rain swept the battle area. British units at the coastal end of the Garigliano river front shot to pieces a Nazi patrol which was ambushed on the south side of the stream.

Yanks Retake Some Ground American units recaptured some of the ground they had lost previously in the Mount Croce ridges north of Venafro.

More than a dozen prisoners were taken south of Rignano in British Eighth Army patrol action. Another patrol clash occurred 15 miles below the Adriatic. North of Alesse the Eighth Army improved its positions.

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked German targets in the battle area and shipping off the Adriatic coast.

Situation Facing Hitler Discussed By Raborg

(The strategic situation of Hitler's "Fortress Europe" is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
Written Especially for International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Allied bombers have straddled Hitler's "Fortress Europe" from north to south and west to east. From Norway in the north to Athens, Greece in the south, from Western France to Sofia, Bulgaria.

Every Nazi route of transportation in Axis Europe is now subject to our all-out terrific assaults from the air. Even if all of Hitler's war production is located under ground, which it is not, his delivery of vital war necessities will be stopped.

Tremendous Allied Advantages Even yet many people fail to grasp the tremendous advantages gained by the Allies with establishment of great bomber fields in Southern Italy, and the steadily westward advance of the Red armies together with their air armadas. There now remains not a single location in all of Axis Europe that is not within easy range of United Nations bombers.

Break-Through Possible In Solomons-Rabaul Area

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Repeated sledge-hammer blows against the Japanese in the Rabaul-Solomons area by Allied army and navy planes threatened today to precipitate a major break-through by the United Nations in the enemy's tough outer defense ring.

This growing belief was underscored in Washington by a navy spokesman who pointed out that during the past six days U. S. navy pilots alone destroyed 102 Jap planes against 15 American aircraft lost, a seven-to-one ratio. Then he added:

Rabaul May Be Abandoned "The Japs have suffered enough damage to important fleet units to give them cause to consider seriously the abandonment of that base (Rabaul) as too hot to handle."

Secretary of the Navy Knox recently said that the developing military situation might force the Japs to evacuate their important base at Rabaul, once considered almost impregnable.

O. P. A. PRACTICES ARE CONDEMNED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Sen. Ellison Smith (D., S. C. chairman of the Senate Agriculture committee, called today for abandonment of the O. P. A. (Onion Producers Association) farm program and chases "the theorists and college professors from its desks."

Smith said he and other committee members are convinced that unless congress forces a change in O. P. A. there is no hope of avoiding greater shortages in meat, milk and butter, and that the problem will extend to other foods and clothing.

"We have had men here before us who have spent their lives in all phases of the agriculture industry," Smith asserted. "They are unanimous in their opinion that the O. P. A. is the last man in condemning O. P. A. practices."

"They have not complained of regulation, but they do complain of the O. P. A. type of regulation. They recognize that it does not fit in with the every day conduct of business."

Opening his address Col. Gentzkow first introduced his staff of officers. He then took his audience step by step from the time a man is wounded on the field of battle through the various first aid stations, divisional hospitals, numbered hospitals and finally evacuation back to a hospital somewhere near his home in the United States.

Col. Gentzkow dwelt at some length upon the origin of the name (Continued On Page Two)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(INS)—The U. S. S. Bataan, an aircraft carrier whose name commemorates the heroic struggle in the Philippines, will be commissioned at 3 p. m. today at the Philadelphia navy yard.

High officials of the Commonwealth of the Philippines, and the United States will attend the ceremony. Rear Admiral M. F. E. Enomoto, commander of the fourth naval district, will place the Bataan in commission and Captain Valentine H. Schaeffer, USN, of Dayton, O., will assume command.

SLOT MACHINES ARE TAKEN BY RAIDERS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Two truckloads of slot machines and slot machine paraphernalia were in the hands of Allegheny County detectives today after a raid of the Coin Machine Distributing Company in Pittsburgh.

The haul of "one-armed bandits" was said to represent one of the biggest slot machine raids in years. It was reported the machines were allegedly stored for county wide distribution soon after the first of the year.

FIRE DESTROYS FOOD

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—(INS)—Ten thousand dollars worth of foodstuffs were destroyed today in a three-alarm fire at a Pittsburgh market and importing company.

Contents of the Hermes Out Rate Market and the Hermes Importing Company, Northside, included important olive oils and cheese, as well as cooking oils, all with point values. Damage to the three-story brick building was estimated at $5,000.

Firemen saved much of the stock by covering the threatened food with tarpaulins. About $50,000 worth of food was in the building.

Germany Moves To Halt Turkey Joining Allies

Recapture Of Island Of Leros Seen As Desperate Move To Influence Turkey

GERMAN VICTORY ONLY DIPLOMATIC

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

Nazi Germany struck a major blow today in a desperate attempt to keep Turkey out of the war on the side of the Allies by capturing the tiny island of Leros in the Dodecanese by hurling overwhelming air and amphibious forces against its British defenders.

With new Allied successes scored in Russia and Italy, and Japan hard put to maintain her hold upon Rabaul in the southwestern Pacific, the German triumph at Leros was but a small phase of the global war.

Not Yet Defeated But it lent belated proof that Adolf Hitler's Reich still is not defeated, and if nothing else seems destined to delay still further the full-scale Turkish participation in the war along with the United Nations that many diplomats and military men have long anticipated.

An official communique from the headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland-Wilson, British commander-in-chief in the Middle East, announced that Leros had fallen to the Germans "after very severe fighting, and in spite of the most determined resistance."

Three thousand British and 5,000 Italian troops were taken prisoner according to the Nazi version of the battle. But even if this is true, the victory is more of a diplomatic than a military one.

The Germans have been trying for months to enhance their falling prestige in Turkey. Allies of the Turks in the last war, the Germans know better than anyone else that military prowess is much admired by them, and it was the unbroken string of Allied victories since El (Continued On Page Two)

CAIRO, Nov. 17.—Capitulation of British and Italian defense forces on the Dodecanese island of Leros to German invasion forces was announced officially today by Middle East headquarters.

"The Germans have captured Leros," said the official communique. "All organized resistance has ceased."

The capitulation came Tuesday night, headquarters said, following the arrival of Leros of fresh German reinforcements.

FILM STARS GET REAL EXCITEMENT

Awakened In Night By Largest Jap Attack In New Guinea

By LEE VAN ATTA
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 15.—(Delayed)—Film stars Gary Cooper, Una Merkel and Phyllis Brooks admitted today they had had "enough thrills in 24 hours to last us a lifetime."

In the early hours of this morning the party of film favorites, who are giving camp shows at all the army and air force bases in New Guinea, was awakened by the largest Jap night attack leveled against this area in many weeks.

Enemy bombs crashed less than half a mile from where they huddled in slit trenches.

Both Miss Merkel and Miss Brooks were muddled by the wet trench in which they took shelter, and Miss Merkel lost her wrist watch for which she hunted in vain until daylight.

Today the Hollywood party were guests of a group of attack bombardment pilots.

Roll another log on the fire, or maybe you use gas or oil or coal, well anyway stoke up the dying embers for neighbor days are getting mighty cold. The rocking chair and sofa have attractions, the nights are chilly and days are nippy quite, which proves why folks are doing much more reading and sitting round the fireplace at night. So roll another log on the fire, or stoke in some coal and then some more, the balmy days are over gentle reader, today is proof it's down to thirty-four.

No New Autos For Civilians Are Seen For War's Duration

Supply Of Reserve Of 55,000 Will Be Depleted Before End Of Next Year

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—American motorists were told today by an OPA spokesman that the present supply of about 55,000 new, 1942 model passenger automobiles will be depleted before the end of next year.

This gloomy news on the civilian transportation front was accompanied by a disclosure from the war production board that no civilian automobile production is in sight for the duration.

The OPA recently curtailed allotment of new cars for the November-December period in order to stretch out the dwindling supplies as far into 1944 as possible.

"When those cars are gone," the spokesman declared, "there just won't be any more to sell." Automobile dealers, however, also have an estimated 20,000 additional new passenger cars on hand which are classified as demonstrators and executive cars, he said. These autos are subject to rationing only if the dealer wishes to sell them, and OPA believes the dealers will not "let go" of their personal cars.

Meanwhile, it is estimated that there are about 30 million automobiles of all types used in the United States under normal conditions. That figure is expected to be trimmed by about one-third or to 20 million—within another year due to the short supply and the continuous wearing out of machines.

Last year civilians, under rationing, received about 225,000 new model cars compared with the present supply of less than 55,000. According to OPA, there were 252,972 cars in the nation's stockpile and that number the army and navy got 10 percent or about 25,000.

GERMANY MOVES TO HALT TURKEY JOINING ALLIES

Alamein—plus a number of broken Nazi promises—that cemented Turkey's friendship with Great Britain and made it likely that Turkish facilities if not armed assistance would soon be granted the Allies.

This situation may not be altered materially by mere German seizure of one small island in the sprawling Dodecanese Archipelago of the Aegean Sea. But from the Allies' point of view, it can hardly be rendered more favorable at the moment.

Leros, like Samos and other small Mediterranean islands taken by the British when the Allies first broke out of their bonds in the Egyptian campaign in motion, was only lightly defended.

bombers and destroyed. Germany must have iron ore from Sweden. But Sweden knows that the Axis is defeated, and Hitler cannot send additional troops to her country to enforce the delivery of ore. Sweden now can tell the fuhrer to stay hands off, and get away with it.

In the south, regardless of any personal feelings of individuals who are of the ilk of the Axis, Spain now would not dare go contrary to the desires of the democracies. It is even probable that, if pressure were exerted, Spain would permit Allied troops to cross her territory for invasion of Southern France.

Switzerland Safe

Little Switzerland is quite safe. It is improbable that her neutrality will now be violated. Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria are subject to bombings 24 hours a day. Every route of supply to Southern Europe, including the Brenner Pass, is under the wings of our bombers.

It is possible that Turkey will permit Allied troops to cross her country and enter Bulgaria or Greece, or both. Hitler's Southern Ukrainian fighting line in its retreat faces the ever-present possibility of being attacked from the rear out of Bulgaria or Rumania.

General Wilson, commander-in-chief of the middle east area, has two great British armies, the 8th and 10th, poised ready to strike. The Allies could easily land invasion forces on the west coast of Yugoslavia, Albania, or Greece.

Hitler's submarine offensive no longer threatens the safe delivery of war material and men on great Allied convoys to any portion of the world.

And all of that has been occasioned by the amazingly successful Soviet offensives and the Allied conquest on North Africa. No, it is unbelievable that a complete collapse of the Axis in the west can be long delayed.

tor, Moscow stated, launching powerful tank and infantry counterattacks. But each Nazi effort was thrown back and "enormous losses" were sustained by the Germans at Moscow.

The Germans likewise were said to have suffered "enormous casualties in manpower and equipment" in the area around Rostov.

In the Gornel-Rechtsa-Korosten-Zhitomir sectors, 81 German tanks were destroyed during Monday's fighting, some of them falling before the anti-tank cannon of Stomovik planes of the Red Air force.

Employed by the Ministry of Works, 50 British women—actresses, artists, fashion writers and housewives—have swept 18 English counties clear of scrap. In their last drive the women collected 40,000 tons of scrap, enough for 400 tanks.

Deaths of the Day

Infant Taylor Twins.

Infant Reynolds Oran Taylor, four week-old son of Charles and Jennie Alley Taylor, of 25 South Front street, died at home, Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

Charles Clay Taylor, infant twin son, died Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the New Castle Hospital.

The twins were born on October 21, 1943, sons of Charles and Jennie Alley Taylor.

In addition to their parents, they leave a brother, DeWayne Taylor; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clay Taylor, this city; and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds H. Alley, this city.

Funeral services for the twins will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Jos. S. Rice Company Chapel, and interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

The family will receive friends at the chapel this afternoon 3 to 5 o'clock, and this evening 7 to 9 o'clock.

of the Deshon Hospital. He said that it was named in honor of the late Lt. Col. George Durfee Deshon, a West Point graduate who later studied medicine and served with distinction with the army. Through the plan of Lt. Col. Deshon the army medical corps was organized and the medical reserve system set up.

Annex To Hospital Here
Concluding his address, Col. Gentzhow made the announcement of the establishment of an annex to Deshon General Hospital to be located at the former National Youth Administration center in Cunningham Park here.

Said Col. Gentzhow, "since the establishment of Deshon General Hospital, New Castle has proven to be a wonderfully friendly city. What you people have done is beyond any thanks I might express. Not only have you given material aid to the hospital but bigger than that has been the friendly, sympathetic attitude of your people here."

"I am most happy today to say to you that the War Department has taken over the National Youth Administration center in Cunningham Park and will operate it as an annex of the Deshon General Hospital as a Conditioning Center for men who are to be returned to duty."

"The annex here will be in charge of a medical executive officer, and other officers and enlisted personnel. We expect to have between 300 and 400 men over here and these men will be reconditioned for active duty. This will mean training of various kinds, drilling and other duties that will restore them to active physical condition."

"Within the next two weeks we expect to get started upon the improvement of the buildings, grounds and the new year we expect to have men living at the center." The announcement was greeted by prolonged applause.

The Lions meeting was in charge of President Arthur Meek, with S. Glenn McCracken in charge of the program. A feature of the day was a medley sung by Norman Freeborne.

Despite smashing American and Allied victories, the Japanese have been pouring planes and ships into the South and Southern Pacific battle zone. Official reports as long as possible, this gateway to the Jap-anned mandated Islands in the Central Pacific.

Fantastic Broadcasts
Meanwhile, the Tokyo radio not only has minimized the American and Allied offensive but has been broadcasting reports of fantastic Japanese victories in the air and on the sea.

A recapitulation of Tokyo claims based on Imperial headquarters statements, communiques and reports of the government news agency Domei shows the following alleged U. S. losses: 11 battleships, 12 cruisers, 33 destroyers and 60 submarines for a total of 157.

Recently a navy spokesman declared that all American naval ship losses to date have been announced, and these official figures show the following vessel sunk in battle: four carriers, 9 cruisers, 39 destroyers and 14 submarines.

lations and a nearby railway at the German-held Yugoslavian port of Sibenik, also by Mitchells.

3. Bombing and strafing of roads, transport and heavy gun positions in Albania by coastal air force Spitfires.

4. Damaging of a 300-foot ship at Recapat, south of Ancona, and two small vessels at Grottoamare by American Warhawks.

5. Close co-operation with Eighth Army troops by Royal Air Force Kitty bombers which bombed and shot up gun positions and communications targets in the battle area.

For the Fortresses the raid on the Istres Le Tube airfield near Marseille rounded out a year of action in the North African Mediterranean theater. Although the actual number of the four-motored giants participating in yesterday's attack was not disclosed, it was reported that the figure was a considerable contrast to the half dozen Fortresses which bombed the Sidi Ahmed airfield near Bizerta, November 16, 1942, one week after the Allied landings in North Africa.

chapter of the Alumni Association were then elected with the following results: President, Rev. J. Calvin Rose, vice president, J. Ellis Bell; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mary Purvis Weinberger. Attorney James E. Chambers was the chairman of the nominating committee making the recommendations.

Russell Weller of Cleveland, president of the Westminster Alumni Association, spoke briefly and congratulated the local Westminsterites for the fine showing at the dinner. He termed it the best he had seen this year. Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of the college was introduced and spoke briefly, reminding the graduates that Westminster needed their interest now more as graduates than she did when they were in school.

A musical feature of the evening was the presentation of two vocal solos by Miss Marian McNary, accompanied by Miss Mary Weber, both students at Westminster. The dinner meeting Tuesday night was arranged by Rev. J. Calvin Rose and a committee. Unfortunately Rev. Rose had to leave before the dinner was well under way and did not see the excellent results of his work.

ISLAND OF LEROS FALLS TO NAZIS

bombardment forced the defenders to give up the fierce fight to retain control of the island in the Aegean sea.

Communique Issued
Middle East headquarters issued its communique shortly after the Berlin radio proclaimed the capture of Leros after a bitter series of clashes with the defenders.

Nazi military quarters, were quoted in broadcasts by the German radio as stating that 3,000 Britons and 5,000 Italians laid down their arms and were taken prisoner.

The Germans succeeded in putting sea-borne forces and parachute troops ashore to come to grips with the defending garrisons.

Waves of Stuka dive-bombers repeatedly hammered at the British and Italian positions.

Diversionary assaults by American planes from Italy against Nazi airdromes in Greece failed to stem the fury of the German aerial assaults and the Germans were able to get superior numbers of troops onto the island before effective Allied counter-measures could be taken.

Two aerial assaults by the Japs were reported. One Jap force of bombers and fighters raided the forward Allied airdromes at Nadzab and Gusap in the Ramu valley. They did some damage before being driven off by fighter patrols.

Allied airmen shot down 20 Jap planes and probably got another six when they intercepted. Allied losses were termed light.

Six Jap bombers appeared over the Allied-occupied Buna area. They bombed the Doodlers area but their explosives were ineffective.

Amazing Way for "RUN-DOWN" people to get New VITALITY..PEP!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach

2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

THESE two important steps may help you to overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, digestive complaints, weakness, poor complexion!

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 30 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS RICH, RED-BLOOD you should enjoy that sense of well being which denotes physical fitness . . . mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or local infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win
Thousands and thousands of users have brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. (U.S.S.S.C.)

points 13 Nazi craft were shot down or otherwise destroyed. Three Allied craft were reported missing.

The Fifth Army in the west, principally American units on the center of the front, grappled in bitter fighting with the Nazis who launched repeated counter-attacks in defense of the German winter line. So furious were the German assaults to prevent the Yanks from bursting through above Venafro that the Americans were forced to give up one hill along the Mount Croce ridges.

Stalemate Continues
In most sectors of the 90-mile trans-penninsular front the stalemate which has obtained for several days because of the onset of winter weather continued. The unfavorable weather cut down air activity also and operations were on only a limited scale.

North of Ateessa, inland from the Adriatic on the Eighth Army front, forces commanded by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery occupied new high ground in the sole Allied gain reported by headquarters.

Eight miles below Ateessa, the Eighth skirmished with Nazi units encountered in the Montezoli sector.

(Radio Algiers said the Eighth Army had hurled back a Nazi counter-attack in the Montezoli sector.)

Today In Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(INS)—The stock market advanced fractions to more than a point today in a continuation of the recovery movement of the last two sessions. Trading was active with sales running at a 400,000 share pace for the two hour session.

Communications, aviation, chemicals and farm equipments led the rise with J. I. Case, Western Union, Douglas and DuPont showing gains of a point or more. G. L. Martin rose as much on the increased dividend payment.

Electric Power & Light issues, featured yesterday, continued to advance on the report that the United Gas recapitalization plan is near agreement.

American Distilling was the feature of the liquor, rising 3 points before retreating, as reports from Baltimore indicated that Tom Moore officials believe that the injunction in the latter's liquor dividend might soon be lifted.

Steels, rails, motors and rubbers were firm, with Goodrich up about a point. Chrysler was up as much early in the session, but retreated slightly.

Bonds were firm in moderately active trading. The curb market also was improved.

Engineer's War
Says U. S. Chief
In New Guinea

By PETER HEMERY

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 20.—There's nothing tougher in the world," was the dictum of grave-faced, dignified Maj. Gen. Eugene Reybold, chief engineer of the United States Army, when he arrived in New Guinea.

Reybold is on a flying inspection tour of southwest Pacific engineering projects.

"In this theater, more than any other in the world, it's an engineer's war," Reybold said. "I am proud that engineer units were the first troops to go into action against the Japs."

Here in New Guinea there is nothing we land on the beach and have to carve bases with their roads, water, supply and airfields from solid jungle. That's why the heaviest equipment is needed here."

Reybold shook his head at the seriousness of the supply problem in the theater. He said that stockpiles of equipment spares now are accumulating in the States, but the difficulty is shipping the material where it is needed.

Although optimistic, he hopes for improvement in the shipping situation and promised further reinforcements of personnel and equipment.

HEN ESTABLISHES WORLD'S RECORD FOR LAYING EGGS

ITHACA, N. J., Nov. 20.—(INS)—Hen-of-the-year and all-time champion egg layer is a Rhode Island Red bird owned by E. B. Parmenter of Franklin, Mass., by a hen just made a new national record at the western New York egg-laying contest by producing 351 eggs in 357 days, the standard laying test year of 51 weeks.

The former world record for 51 weeks was 347 eggs made by a hen named Lexington from Corvallis, Ore., in the 1942 Connecticut laying test.

The Parmenter bird also laid such large eggs that she made a new national record on the point score, 386.10, says Prof. R. C. Ogle of Cornell, supervisor of the New York tests at Stafford, N. Y.

But previous record made by a bird of the Rhode Island breed was 338 eggs, and 371.55 points in the Maine 1942 contest, by a hen from the Harco Farm at South Easton, Mass.

The Parmenter hen had no artificial lights in the winter months when lights are supposed to be most beneficial to continued egg production. She laid an egg for 184 days straight without artificial light.

TO TRAIN COW TESTERS

To meet the big demand for testers in Dairy Herd Improvement Association, the Pennsylvania State College will offer another training course, December 8 to 22.

Information on the course may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

AVOID WET LITTER IN UPPLET HOUSE

When late-hatched pullets are housed in November, the owner must do something about the litter problem or he will have difficulty later.

With the late housing there is not time to build up the proper depth of fine, broken litter material on the floor before cold weather starts. That is the case where straw alone is used.

About four inches of the finer materials, such as dry shavings, sawdust, and crushed corn cobs, will go less trouble than straw alone. However, if straw is to be used, it is advisable to place about two inches of the finer materials on the floor before adding any straw.

Poultry extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State College suggest that only small amounts of straw be used at first. As it becomes broken up and mixed with the finer materials, small amounts can be added until about six inches accumulates. Be sure to keep the litter stirred up and evenly distributed over the floor.

ALL-AMERICA VEGETABLE VARIETIES ANNOUNCED

All-America vegetable judges recently announced new variety award winners and their recommendations for 1944 introduction.

Great Lakes lettuce won top place. This crisphead type is similar to Imperial 456. It stands the heat and sun better than most iceberg or New York strains, is most resistant to a seed head, and very resistant to tip burn. It also does well in cool weather. A limited amount of seed is available and growers should try to obtain the most uniform strain available by ordering early. The color is somewhat lighter than Imperial 44. This entry won a bronze medal.

Another bronze medal went to cucumber Cubit, which is a temporary name given to entry No. 21. This is a dark green, white spine, cylindrical cucumber with round ends. It makes an ideal slicing and shipping sort, with firm, white flesh and handsome appearance which are retained for a long time after picking. It is comparable with Colorado, A and C, and Straight 8, seems to make better and more fruits for early picking, and seems a more prolific bearer. Home gardeners, such as tomatos and peppers, in the pan with shippers may all grow this variety to advantage.

Keystone Greenpod, a bush snap bean of excellent flavor and dependable production, won honorable mention. It is comparable with Tendergreen in quality and Burpee Stringless in dependable production. It is round, meaty, straight, slightly longer than Tendergreen and the Improved Burpee Stringless.

These three award winners are the only ones with sufficient seed for introduction in 1944. Other popular entries were Georgia Improved Perfection pepper recommended to replace the popular Perfection pepper, Manatee Wonder pepper similar to Early Calwonder or Oakview Wonder, Dwarf Horticultural bean named Brilliant, and hybrid sweet corn Aristogreen.

KEEP ALL DRIED FOODS IN COOL CLEAN PLACE

Protect your home-dried and other dried foods from insects. No one can afford to allow any of these foods to go to waste.

First step toward protection is a clean storage cupboard. Clean the shelves, to get rid of old cereal crumbs and any insect eggs that may be there. After washing with soap and water, dry and air the shelves before storing a new supply of dried foods.

To prepare home-dried beans or peas for storage, spread them on a large cookie sheet, having the beans not more than a half inch deep. Put in the oven that's been heated to 150 degrees Fahrenheit and leave the beans there for 20 minutes. Prop the door open so the oven won't be too hot. Put the beans in a clean, airtight can or jar, and store the largest part of the winter supply in a cool, dry place. If your canned food cupboard is dry, this may be a good place. Keeping only what you need for immediate use in the kitchen cupboard means less danger of weevil infestation. Watch the beans in storage and if there are signs of weevils developing repeat the heat treatment.

Already opened packages of dried fruits, flours, and cereals in the kitchen ought to be watched carefully. Always close the packages after taking out what food you need and use up one package before opening another. Keep the shelves clean and free of crumbs.

If you have had trouble with insects, it may be wise to transfer the contents of all opened packages to airtight containers. Keep packages of dried foods that may be infested can be given the heat treatment. Simply put the opened package as it is in the oven at 150 degrees Fahrenheit and leave for 20 minutes. Then close the package tightly and store in a cool place. In larger quantities than is practical for you to store and use in a reasonable length of time. Keep containers covered and store in a cool place.

NEW METAL KITCHEN PANS OUT FOR DURATION

It behooves every homemaker to take good care of her kitchen utensils. Careful handling and storage will help to prevent dents, scratches, and chips that start deterioration.

Fit cabinets and cupboards with filling spaces for pie and bread tins, kettle covers, saucepans, and cutlery. The partitions can be made of thin wood or heavy cardboard and can be removable.

Hot soapy water usually is enough to clean most utensils. If food sticks to a pan, soak it in water, then remove the food with a wooden spoon. When a utensil needs special attention, stay away from gritty scouring powders. Use one of the following milder treatments:

Aluminum: Don't leave water or food in kettle longer than necessary. When discolored on the inside, make up a weak vinegar solution and boil in the kettle. Or you can cook an acid food, such as tomatoes or apples, in the pan with out spoiling the food. If necessary to use an abrasive, use grade OO steel wool on the inside, but not on the outside of the pan.

Stainless Steel: Wash, rinse, and dry well.

Iron: Wash in hot water to which soda has been added; rinse and dry well. Brush lightly with steel wool to remove rust spots.

Enamelware, glassware, earthenware, pottery: Avoid filling utensils with extremely hot or cold liquids. Instead use liquid of temperature similar to that of utensil at time it is filled. If food has stuck, let the pan soak in warm water to which soda has been added.

BIG ENROLLMENT

CHICAGO.—(INS)—A total of 1,425 persons have enrolled for the new 15-week series of 28 free war courses given by the Illinois Institute of Technology. When 682 persons completed the previous 15 weeks of free instruction it brought to 3,453 the number of men and women who have been trained in the institution's free radio war training program alone.

Thousands Of War Prisoners
Aid Harvesting

By ERWIN D. SIAS

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A War Food Administration spokesman disclosed today that nearly 47,000 German and Italian prisoners of war currently are being used to help harvest this nation's record 1943 food crop.

Of the total 140,000 war prisoners interned in the United States, the spokesman said, an undisclosed number also are pinch-hitting in food canning plants where labor shortages have been acute.

At the same time, the spokesman revealed that the government is considering a plan to use Italian prisoners for farm work without armed guards. Now that Italy has dropped out of the war, the interned Italians in this country are not strictly prisoners of war, he said.

Details of this new proposal, which has been under consideration for several weeks, will be worked out by the army, he declared.

Under present arrangements, both German and Italian war prisoners are kept under constant guard with guards accompanying internees to their work in the field or canning plant.

War prisoners are paid the prevailing wage in the field or in the canneries, 80 cents a day as outlined at the Geneva convention in 1929.

British Believe
Hitler Planning
Some Major Move

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)
Firm British belief that Adolf Hitler is planning some major stroke against the British Isles before his ramshackle Nazi Europe goes down in defeat emerged today as the main impulse behind the stepped-up aerial offensive against the Reich.

An official announcement from the British Air Ministry telling of the third successive heavy Royal Air Force attack against Germany disclosed that a huge chemical plant at Leverkusen, engaged in the manufacture of poison gas, had been singled out as last night's principal target.

The threat of poison gas has been inherent in the war since Hitler started it by his attack on Poland more than four years ago. But thus far, all belligerents have abided by the terms of the Geneva convention outlawing its use, and according to British military officials, the Nazis have refrained from employing it mainly due to fear of reprisals.

In his last public address, delivered to his gangster following at the Loewenbrau beer cellar in Munich, Hitler told Germany that while it was not possible because of distances to retaliate against the United States, there is another nation—close at hand—the Poles—who will soon feel Nazi vengeance.

BUREAUCRACY WORKS

LONDON.—(INS)—Who says bureaucracy is no good? Here's a colonel with a staff of 17,000, and he gets things done!

His name is Burford Tatlow, he holds the coveted British Military Cross, and he's not at all ashamed that, for a colonel, he probably has the biggest staff in the world. With its help he runs more than a thousand British army canteens, chiefly in the middle east. His biggest problem to date, he says, was to get some 92,000 tons of beer to several hundred thousand Tommies stationed in Africa and western Asia. But he made it.

VALLEY FORGE, Pa.—(INS)—Wounded soldiers at Valley Forge army hospital now can telephone to their families without moving from bed. Equipment has been installed in the nine surgical wards so that a portable coin telephone can be wheeled to each bedside. For most of the hundreds who can move around, a special telephone room has been prepared.

Traveller Reports Cologne Is Badly Demolished City

Bombings Put Rhineland Town In Category Of Nearly Dead City

By STEN HEDMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 20.—The people of Cologne, who every night at 6 o'clock take their valuables and scurry into primitive cellar air raid shelters, today are convinced that by summer their Rhineland town will be a dead city—killed by repeated bombings.

A neutral traveller who has just returned from the Reich virtually agreed with this view, and declared that already commercial life of Cologne is dead.

Block after block in the Rhineland industrial city now contains nothing but ruins, shambles, and no matter what one tries to purchase in a store, the answer usually is negative, no stocks on hand.

It is virtually impossible to get a hotel room in Cologne today, and practically every hotel is half or three-quarters demolished. The railway station, although centered in an absolute mass of ruined buildings, itself has not been badly damaged and still is in operation, by an apparent miracle, the traveller declared, the bridges across the Rhine have escaped damage.

After each day traffic has to find new ways to pass around the new piles of rubble and debris, while prisoners of war are hurried to the scene to clean up as much and as quickly as possible.

The only building activity consists of construction of huge air raid shelters capable of containing 2,000 persons—and these house the bombed-out people who sleep in the shelters every night, cooking over portable gas stoves.

Everyone in Cologne "seems over-tired," this traveller said, and even little girls of 13 years of age are working hard. Only a few still cling to a belief in a Nazi victory, he reported, especially in view of the Soviet victories on the eastern front.

If you wash onions well, dry them and pack in a Mason jar, tightly capped, you can keep them in the refrigerator without contaminating other foods with their odor.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers
Are Outlined Here

Notice has been received at the OCD of a station wide drill, muster and inspection of all O.C.D. units, December 15, starting at 7 p.m. and lasting until 10 p.m. This will start with an inspection of the groups and a report to the inspection officers of all federal property in their possession, or that which was issued to members of the group. After this inspection has been completed some groups will use prepared incidents for a drill, this will include wardens, fire guards, messengers, auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police, rescue squads, demolition, decontamination and all other branches of the OCD of the Local Council of Defense.

We will on this drill move OCD fire equipment across the city to different spots. Rescue squads will be sent on incidents and in fact, all parts of our civilian defense groups will have a job to do. Make your own group of one hundred percent turn out of your group on the evening of December 15.

It is to be understood that if a part of your group is working at their regular place of employment on this date at the time the report is made, they will so state in his report. All others should be present. They must be accounted for by the reporting officer of the group—Frank Sargent.

Spring Plant Singers Please Deshon Men

Chorus And Vocalists Repeat Success Of Previous En- gagements In Butler

Repeating their successes of previous engagements the chorus of the Standard Steel Spring Company appeared in the auditorium of the Deshon General Hospital near Butler, Friday night, November 19.

Under the direction of William Richards the chorus sang several numbers to the apparent satisfaction of the audience and the vocalists and orchestra added to the satisfaction.

The vocalists, Verna Drapko, Verlee Mauermaier, Mary Di Lorenzo and Vivian Polen were in excellent voice and were encored. Eddie Zelak pleased with a violin solo. The orchestra was heard in several "jam" sessions.

During the program the "Ladies Infantry" executed a military problem with precision and to the pleasure of the service men who were subject to the "attack".

Charge Violations Of Price Control

HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Damage suits totaling $68,663 and injunction proceedings were on file today in Federal court by the Harrisburg district office of price administration against two slaughtering and meat wholesalers charged with violating the price control act.

The defendants, and claims against them, are Ray and Mark Dockey, Elizabethtown, Dauphin county, $51,797, and H. L. Peachey, of Belleville, Mifflin county, $16,866.

The Elizabethtown defendants were charged with 3 1/2 cents to 11 cents a pound over-calling sales of meat, while Peachey's alleged over-calling sales ranged from a half-cent to 8 1/2 cents a pound.

The actions were filed by Charles J. Ware, chief enforcement attorney in the district O.P.A., on behalf of Price Administrator Chester Bowles.

East Brook High To Present Play

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 20.—(INS)—Extension of this country's social security program to include all economic hazards of life was predicted today by Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the Social Security Board.

Addressing a conference of managers from 71 social security board branches in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware, Altmeyer said:

"It is not the responsibility of government to abolish poverty, but it is the government's responsibility to provide a minimum basic security and to prevent absolute destitution."

"A single, unified national program to protect against all hazards could be handled in the present social security set-up with little adjustment and within six months."

The Office of Defense Transportation today warned persons contemplating the purchase of either new or used trucks for the purpose of inaugurating new operations or extending the area of present operations to contact the Youngstown district ODT office before taking such steps.

The warning came from Harry G. Boy, district ODT manager who stated that under ODT regulations inauguration of new operations or extension of present operations must first have the approval of ODT before they can be put into effect.

Mr. Boyd said that all prospective truck buyers would save themselves time and money if they contacted ODT first for approval.

NEW RECORD

McKEESPORT, Pa., Nov. 20.—(INS)—The National Tube Company's Christy Park works today boasted the commendation of the War Production Board for "delivering the goods" in gas cylinders in record fashion.

E. F. Tomiska, director of the WPB Containers Division, said the Christy Park works broke all records for shipment of gas cylinders in October.

Some Industry May Do Civilian Work Next Year

Vice President Of W.P.B. Predicts Industry May Be Partially Diverted In 1944

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Charles E. Wilson, vice chairman of the War Production Board predicted before a senate committee Friday that American industry may be partially diverted from war to civilian manufacturing next year.

Appearing as a witness before the Truman committee investigating the war effort, Wilson asserted, however, "It is wrong to contemplate that any industry or segment of industry has the right to use any large amount of technical help for civilian production today because we are not ready for it."

The production official urged that government agencies and industry "must plan cooperatively" for the time when war output has caught up with the needs of the armed forces.

Meanwhile, it appeared that war production board officials, headed by Chairman Donald M. Nelson had the inside track on the task of re-converting industry from war to peace time pursuits.

This developed when it became known that Bernard M. Baruch, now studying post-war problems for a president, told a meeting of WPB steel industry leaders that the men now in charge of war production should have the job of reconversion. He held that it would be a bigger task to get American industry back to peace time tasks than it was to convert to war.

It also known that Nelson himself feels that if he and his organization do not handle the reconversion task, some one should be chosen now to take over his war production post. With the backing of Baruch, who is very close to the White House, it is believed that Nelson is out in front for the big job ahead.

Time And Half For Thanksgiving

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—(INS)—Employees engaged in war work Thanksgiving Day must be paid time and one half, but not more, Ernest W. Votaw, regional attorney of the S. Department of Labor announced today.

While the order requires only time and one half for the New Year's Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day and either Memorial Day or one other holiday of greater local importance, it also specifies that double time must be paid for any seventh consecutive day worked in the regularly scheduled work week Votaw said.
